Reds Step Up Raids On American Bases

First U.S. Unit Leaves Viet July 8

3rd Battalion Of 9th Division Due For Inactivation

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today the first American unit to leave South Vietnam under the plan to withdraw 25,000 troops will be the 3rd Battalion, 60th Infantry, part of the 2nd Brigade, 9th Infantry Division.

Headquarters spokesmen said the battalion will be moved out by air on or about July 8 and will return to the United States for inactivation.

"The remainder of the 2nd Brigade, which includes the brigade headquarters company, the 3rd Battalion, 47th Infantry, and the 4th Battalion, 47th Infantry, will move to the continental United States at a later date.

These units also will be inactivated," the announcement said.

It had been announced earlier that one battalion would be airlifted from the 9th Division, but the specific unit was not disclosed until today. The 1st and 2nd brigades of the 9th Division will leave Vietnam, while the 3rd will remain.

The 9th Division is the only major U.S. ground force in the Mekong Delta.

The U.S. Command also identified four nondivisional Army units, totaling about 2,000 men, that will be redeployed by the end of August.

They are the 86th Engineer Battalion (Construction); 6th Battalion, 56th Artillery (air defense-Hawk missiles); 70th Engineer Company, and the 1097th

Mayor To Be Liberal Candidate

Lindsay, Wagner Both Defeated In New York Voting

NEW YORK (AP) — In a mayoral primary that echoed a trend set in Los Angeles and Minneapolis, conservatives wrested the Republican nomination from Mayor John V. Lindsay and wrecked former Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner's comeback bid Tuesday.

Lindsay, who will be on the November ballot as Liberal party candidate, was narrowly defeated by a little - known state senator from Staten Island, John J. Marchi, who also has the Conservative party nomination. The final unofficial count was 111,725 to 106,358.

Wagner lost to Italian-born City Comptroller Mario A. Procaccino, who rejected the label of "law-and-order candidate" but was the most conservative in a five-man Democratic field. He won with only about a third of the vote.

Bronx Borough President Herman Badillo, who was born in Puerto Rico, ran a close third. Author Norman Mailer and Rep. James H. Scheuer trailed.

The vote was Procaccino 252,283, Wagner 221,605, Badillo 215,381, Mailer 41,136, Scheuer 38,631.

Lindsay assailed the "forces of reaction and backlash" that he said had taken "temporary" control of both parties in the city.

"There is a mood of hostility in this city and nation," Lindsay said, "but before November the mood of reason will return."

Wagner also deplored the

U.S. B52 Bombers Mark Fourth Year In Vietnam Conflict

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers marked their fourth anniversary in the Vietnam war today as North Vietnamese troops stepped up attacks on American installations in the areas near Laos and Cambodia.

Spokesmen said the enemy killed 13 Americans and wounded 28 in two fierce assaults early today while 72 North Vietnamese died.U.S. military analysts said captured enemy documents indicated the Communist Command has ordered increased sapper attacks on American bases.

About 200 North Vietnamese infantrymen and sappers assaulted a base of the 1st Brigade, 5th Mechanized Infantry Division, three miles south of the abandoned Khe Sanh combat base, with machine guns, rifles and rocket-propelled grenades. The base is four miles from the Laotian border.

U.S. defenders returned the fire, helicopter gunships rushed to their aid and fighting raged for about two hours. The North Vietnamese withdrew leaving 35 of their dead, some of them strung along the barbed wire perimeter of the base.

U.S. headquarters said 10 Americans were killed and 12 wounded.

House Committee Okays Full Year

Surtax Foes Will Continue Bid For Shorter Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nioxn has scored a substantial gain in his drive for a full year's extension of the income surtax but opponents are continuing their effort to cut it back, if not in the House, then in the Senate.

The House Ways and Means Committee Tuesday gave its approval of the Nixon anti-inflaton package, practically intact.

It includes continuation of the surtax at its present 10 per cent rate through Dec. 30, with the rate halved for the first six months of fiscal 1970, tax relief for low income taxpayers, repeal of the investment credit and postponement of scheduled reductions in automobile and telephone excise taxes.

The House will vote next week.

Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., acting chairman of the committee, pledged support and cited endorsement of leaders of both parties in the House. But he predicted a tough fight and would not claim victory in advance.

The committee was unofficially reported to have voted 15-10 against an amendment to cut back the surtax extension to Oct. 31.

Five Democrats out of the 15 on the committee joined all 10 Republicans in defeating the shorter period, sources said. Thus the measure goes to the Democratic-controlled House with its key provision endorsed by only one-third of the committee Democrats.

Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, a committee member who is pushing for a shorter extension promised to continue the fight in the Rules Committee and the House. He and his associates fear leverage for early tax reform will be lost if the surtax is extended for a long period.

One of the group conceded to a reporter chances are not bright in the House. But he added. "We will keep the issue hot and build up a record for the Senate." Senate rules make it easier to offer amendments there.

The provision benefiting low-income persons—a "sweetener" that did not satisfy many liberal Democrats—was calculated to relieve about 2 million poverty-level families of all tax and in all benefits about 13 million persons.

Under present law, a family of four with $3,500 income is liable for $74 income tax. It would pay none, under the proposal, which would take effect Jan. 1.

The administration won another victory when the committee approved repeal of the investment tax credit, which allowed businesses to recover up to 7 per cent of investment in equipment.

The Treasury calculated that the package means a net gain of about $9.1 billion in revenue during the year beginning July 1, foreshadowing a surplus of some $6 billion.

The administration has insisted that the surplus is needed to curb inflation.

$1.9 Billion Under Nixon Budget

Senate Eyes $191 Billion Federal Spending Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is headed toward approval of a federal spending ceiling of $191 billion, some $1.9 billion below both President Nixon's budget and a ceiling passed earlier by the House.

Both ceilings are flexible, however.

The issue is likely to provide the major conflict between the two houses as Congress strives to complete action by June 30 on a supplemental appropriations bill, the final money measure for the fiscal year ending on that date.

The Senate's $4.4 billion version of he bill is about $700 million more than the House measure.

The $191 billion spending ceiling was devised by the Senate Appropriations Committee under the leadership of Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., chairman of its supplemental subcommittee.

An effort by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to tighten the ceiling was defeated Tuesday 79 to 16.

Williams also planned to try to eliminate from the bill a provision repealing the ceiling enacted last year on federal employment. The Nixon administration favors repeal.

Several other amendments also remained for consideration today, including one by Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., Alan Cranston, D-Calif, and Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., to add $47.5 million to the $7.5 million approved by the Appropriations Commitee for the Neighborhood Youth Corps' summer jbs program in urban ghettoes.

The spending ceiling in the bill starts at $187.9 billion — $5 billion below the House and administration figures—but brings this up to $191 billion by exempting a number of programs where actual spending is either uncontrollable due to law or unforseeable such as the Vietnam war.

The exemptions include such things as farm price supports, public assistance and medicaid, social security and other retirement programs, vocational rehabilitation payments, costs of Congress and the federal judiciary, veterans benefits and interest on the national debt.

The House bill sets the spending ceiling at the $192.9 budget level but provides that it would change every time Congress reduces or increases an appropriations bill, or votes a supplemental money measure.

Thus, by its own subsequent action, Congress could at any time lift spending restrictions for a given agency.

Lt. Ramsey Excused From Evans Inquiry

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP) — Lt. j. g. Ronald C. Ramsey, deck officer of the U.S. destroyer sliced in half by an Australian aircraft carrier, was permanently excused today from testifying before a board of inquiry.

U.S. Rear Adm. Jerome H. King Jr., chairman of the board of six American and six Australian officers, said the panel "will be happy" to hear from Ramsey later if he changes his mind.

Negro Forces Jet Carrying 87 To Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — An armed Negro carrying literature of the militant Black Panthers forced a Trans World Airlines jet with a crew of seven and 80 passengers to fly to Cuba.

The gunman, tall, well-dressed and bespectacled, took control of the scheduled Oakland-to-New York nonstop flight Tuesday over Wilson Creek, Nev.

Except to describe himself as "a desperate man who had to get to Havana," he gave no reason for his action. Eldridge Cleaver, a Black Panther leader who is a fugitive from U.S. justice on a parole violation charge, is reported to be living in the Cuban capital.

He was not identified, but Lynn Bell of Piedmont, Calif., a passenger, took moving pictures of him as he left the plane in Havana. Bell said the film was taken from him by an FBI agent when the plane reached Miami.

Oil Slick On Mississippi Seen Danger To Wildlife

ALMA, Wis. (AP) — An ugly film of oil spread for 25 miles along the scenic upper Mississippi River from a recked barge today as Minnesota and Wisconsin conservationists wrung their hands over its impact on wildlife.

"It's like living in a refinery," said James Everson, a Wisconsin conservation warden. "A lot of people are pretty unhappy. All of a sudden we get a big slug of petroleum right in the middle of some of the clearest water on the Mississippi."

The barge carried 567,000 gallons of oil. Its captain, Chester Forkum, said about 400,000 gallons escaped into the river.

The river current quickly thinned the film in the main channel. But winds pushed the slick into bayous and left it stranded in still water containing plant and insect life needed by fish, waterfowl and other wildlife.

"There is no way to determine in just a few days what the loss of food sources will do to the life cycles of fish and ducks that need that food," Everson said. "We already have one biologist talking about the impact two years from now."

The film glistened brownish red, green and yellow as it glided through the locks of the Alma dam and spread downstream. When it encountered an obstruction, such as a dam wall or a riverside weed, it wrinkled into a sludge-like layer up to four inches thick.

Everson estimated the film covered 75 per cent of the river's surface, "a matter of thousands of acres."

Apollo 11 Gets New 'Go' For July 16 Trip

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 11 man-on-the-moon mission has received a new go-ahead o aim for a July 16 launching.

The Apollo program director, Air Force Lt. Gen. Samuel Phillips, gave the proceed order Tuesday night after a nine-hour flight readiness review in which he received reports on all aspects of the mission.

Phillips said the only major unsolved problem involves a guidance system which misbehaved on last month's Apollo 10 moon orbit trip and caused the lunar module to gyrate for several seconds before the astronauts controlled it.

"Although this problem is not completely resolved at this time, I am confident this will not become a constraint to the July launch," the Apollo director said.

The Apollo astronauts, Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins, planned several hours in spaceship simulators today, with Armstrong and Aldrin also rehearsing what they intend to do during 2½ hours walking on the moon.

The DOCTOR Says

Safety Precautions Needed For Boating

With an estimated 38 million Americans seeking recreation in over eight million pleasure boats, some accidents are bound to occur. Most of these are the fault of the operator and 17 per cent of the injuries incured involved boats that were towing water skiers.

Dr. Brandstadt

The commonest causes of boating accidents are failure of the operator to keep a proper lookout for hazards, overloading the boat and stunting by inexperienced operators. The U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, the U.S. Power Squadron and the American Red Cross offer basic courses in seamanship and the handling of small craft.

Oars, fire extinguisher and a bailing can should be carried in the boat at all times. If the craft you are in swamps or capsizes, hang on until help arrives. Don't try to swim to shore because it is always farther away than it looks and you may become exhausted. Don't stand up in a small craft or sit on the bow, stern or sides.

The law requires that every motorboat carry a life preserver for each passenger. The National Safety Council conducted a study to determine what type is best. Although the buoyant cushion is the cheapest, it is not the best because it slips away easily and is no help to a person who has lost consciousness.

The buoyant belt worn around the waist, chiefly by water skiers, won't hold your head out of the water. They are not recommended for nonswimmers. If the belt slips below the hips, it becomes even harder to keep your head above water and if you are unconscious you will drown.

—:—

The yoke buoyant vest will keep your head out of the water, allowing you to relax completely. Although not foolproof, it is probably the best type available and is especially recommended for children and nonswimmers. They should wear this type of jacket at all times when they are in a boat.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Reading Club Launched At Library Here

Mrs. Hilda McEwen, children's librarian at Carnegie Library here, has announced that the Summer Reading Club is now under way.

This year a president of the reading club will be elected, with "Green Gable" and "Purple Paul" the two contenders for the office.

Children of the third grade and up are urged to stop at the library and join. Each book they read will be a vote for their favorite. Mrs. McEwen said.

A certificate is obtained by reading five fiction and five non-fiction volumes. For an additional 10 books read, a gold seal is placed on the certificate, and for five additional books, a red ribbon is added to the seal.

For 30 books read, a child receives a certificate with a blue ribbon and gold seal and an invitation to a party in September, when the contest will come to a close.

The public is invited to visit the library to view a display case in the front lobby. Puppets on display were made by Mrs. Margaret Guyton.

Travelers in the Australian Outback can set their course by looking at the 12 - foot - high mound homes of Meriodionalis termites which always point north and south, the National Geographic Society says.

Expense Of $780 Shown In Drive For Two Levies

The Citizens Committee for Better Schools spent $780 in its successful campaign for enactment of two levies totaling 12 mills at the May primaries, it was shown in a sworn statement of expenses filed Tuesday with the County Election Board.

The report was signed by Leo C. Lawrence and James Lowe, as co - chairmen of the committee. The report showed the committee had a balance of $351.23 and $41.58 in a checking account before it started its financial appeal for the May election. The overall receipts totaled $1,337.81, including the previous balance. It listed 50 contributions ranging from $5 to $100 from individuals and groups.

The committee concluded the campaign with a balance of $557.72. It said the funds will be "retained for the next necessary campaign for a school issue." At the same time, School Supt. Paul Blair filed a report on behalf of the Board of Education showing it spent nothing in the campaign.

Friday at 4 p.m. is the deadline for filing campaign expense statements with the Election Board. They are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from committees which supported or opposed any aspirant or issue.

Commissioners And Engineers Talk About Tax

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Commissioners and engineers of Ohio's 88 counties opened their three-day meeting in Cleveland Tuesday with most discussion centered around a proposed permissive county income tax before the Ohio Legislature.

"We would be happier if it were mandated rather than permissive," said Laurence Dumford of Fayette County, president of the County Commissioner Association of Ohio. The "permissive" clause allows counties to enact or ingore the tax at their choosing.

Commissioner Gary J. Thompson of Trumbull County, who was a member of a state tax committee that studied the proposal, said he was disappointed in the proposed distrubution of the tax.

"We were given to understand the counties' share would be larger, that they would receive most of the tax. But now it has been changed," he said.

As proposed, 60 per cent of the tax funds would go to schools, 10 per cent to the respective communities in which it is collected, and only 10 per cent to the counties. The remaining 20 per cent would be used as needed.

High Court Sifts Landmark Ruling In Murderer's Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court is considering what may be a landmark decision in the case of convicted murderer Cleo Vernon Keaton of Dayton.

Keaton, 31, was scheduled to die in the electric chair Friday. The high court however, granted him an identifinite stay of execution to hear an appeal of a sanity ruling made in his case earlier.

The appeal represents the first test of Ohio laws on the sanity of a man for the purpose of execution.

Keaton was convicted in Pickaway County in 1965 in the fatal slaying of Maurice Francis, 50, of Williamsport. He also was charged in the slaying of three Dayton persons at the time of the Francis murder.

Keaton's death sentence was stayed last November when the warden of the Ohio Penitentiary said there was some doubt about the convict's sanity. Keaton was sent to Lima State Hospital for observation and later ruled sane.

Franklin County Common Pleas Court Judge Myron E. Gessaman then ruled that Keaton was sane enough to be executed, and set down a definition of legal sanity for use in execution cases. No such definition previously existed, even in Ohio law.

Keaton's attorneys have based their appeal on the fact that there are two entirely different sanity definitions. One is applied by the governor when considering reprive and the other issued by the court, which is now being applied.

Attorneys also are challenging the 10th District ourt of Appeals ruling which upheld Gessaman's order of executional execution. They maintain that his sanity ruling is not an appealable order.

House Committee Okays Full Year

Surtax Foes Will Continue Bid For Shorter Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nioxn has scored a substantial gain in his drive for a full year's extension of the income surtax but opponents are continuing their effort to cut it back, if not in the House, then in the Senate.

The House Ways and Means Committee Tuesday gave its approval of the Nixon anti-inflaton package, practically intact.

It includes continuation of the surtax at its present 10 per cent rate through Dec. 30, with the rate halved for the first six months of fiscal 1970, tax relief for low income taxpayers, repeal of the investment credit and postponement of scheduled reductions in automobile and telephone excise taxes.

The House will vote next week.

Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., acting chairman of the committee, pledged support and cited endorsement of leaders of both parties in the House. But he predicted a tough fight and would not claim victory in advance.

The committee was unofficially reported to have voted 15-10 against an amendment to cut back the surtax extension to Oct. 31.

Five Democrats out of the 15 on the committee joined all 10 Republicans in defeating the shorter period, sources said. Thus the measure goes to the Democratic-controlled House with its key provision endorsed by only one-third of the committee Democrats.

Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, a committee member who is pushing for a shorter extension promised to continue the fight in the Rules Committee and the House. He and his associates fear leverage for early tax reform will be lost if the surtax is extended for a long period.

One of the group conceded to a reporter chances are not bright in the House. But he added. "We will keep the issue hot and build up a record for the Senate." Senate rules make it easier to offer amendments there.

The provision benefiting low-income persons—a "sweetener" that did not satisfy many liberal Democrats—was calculated to relieve about 2 million poverty-level families of all tax and in all benefits about 13 million persons.

Under present law, a family of four with $3,500 income is liable for $74 income tax. It would pay none, under the proposal, which would take effect Jan. 1.

The administration won another victory when the committee approved repeal of the investment tax credit, which allowed businesses to recover up to 7 per cent of investment in equipment.

The Treasury calculated that the package means a net gain of about $9.1 billion in revenue during the year beginning July 1, foreshadowing a surplus of some $6 billion.

The administration has insisted that the surplus is needed to curb inflation.

$1.9 Billion Under Nixon Budget

Senate Eyes $191 Billion Federal Spending Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is headed toward approval of a federal spending ceiling of $191 billion, some $1.9 billion below both President Nixon's budget and a ceiling passed earlier by the House.

Both ceilings are flexible, however.

The issue is likely to provide the major conflict between the two houses as Congress strives to complete action by June 30 on a supplemental appropriations bill, the final money measure for the fiscal year ending on that date.

The Senate's $4.4 billion version of he bill is about $700 million more than the House measure.

The $191 billion spending ceiling was devised by the Senate Appropriations Committee under the leadership of Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., chairman of its supplemental subcommittee.

An effort by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to tighten the ceiling was defeated Tuesday 79 to 16.

Wiliams also planned to try to eliminate from the bill a provision repealing the ceiling enacted last year on federal employment. The Nixon administration favors repeal.

Several other amendments also remained for consideration today, including one by Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., Alan Cranston, D-Calif, and Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., to add $47.5 million to the $7.5 million approved by the Appropriations Commitee for the Neighborhood Youth Corps' summer jbs program in urban ghettoes.

The spending ceiling in the bill starts at $187.9 billion — $5 billion below the House and administration figures—but brings this up to $191 billion by exempting a number of programs where actual spending is either uncontrollable due to law or unforseeable such as the Vietnam war.

The exemptions include such things as farm price supports, public assistance and medicaid, social security and other retirement programs, vocational rehabilitation payments, costs of Congress and the federal judiciary, veterans benefits and interest on the national debt.

The House bill sets the spending ceiling at the $192.9 budget level but provides that it would change every time Congress reduces or increases an appropriations bill, or votes a supplemental money measure.

Thus, by its own subsequent action, Congress could at any time lift spending restrictions for a given agency.

First U.S. Unit Leaves Viet July 8

3rd Battalion Of 9th Division Due For Inactivation

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today the first American unit to leave South Vietnam under the plan to withdraw 25,000 troops will be the 3rd Battalion, 60th Infantry, part of the 2nd Brigade, 9th Infantry Division.

Headquarters spokesmen said the battalion will be moved out by air on or about July 8 and will return to the United States for inactivation.

"The remainder of the 2nd Brigade, which includes the brigade headquarters company, the 3rd Battalion, 47th Infantry, and the 4th Battalion, 47th Infantry, will move to the continental United States at a later date.

These units also will be inactivated," the announcement said.

It had been announced earlier that one battalion would be airlifted from the 9th Division, but the specific unit was not disclosed until today. The 1st and 2nd brigades of the 9th Division will leave Vietnam, while the 3rd will remain.

The 9th Division is the only major U.S. ground force in the Mekong Delta.

The U.S. Command also identified four nondivisional Army units, totaling about 2,000 men, that will be redeployed by the end of August.

They are the 86th Engineer Battalion (Construction); 6th Battalion, 56th Artillery (air defense-Hawk missiles); 70th Engineer Company, and the 1097th

Negro Forces Jet Carrying 87 To Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — An armed Negro carrying literature of the militant Black Panthers forced a Trans World Airlines jet with a crew of seven and 80 passengers to fly to Cuba.

The gunman, tall, well-dressed and bespectacled, took control of the scheduled Oakland-to-New York nonstop flight Tuesday over Wilson Creek, Nev.

Except to describe himself as "a desperate man who had to get to Havana," he gave no reason for his action. Eldridge Cleaver, a Black Panther leader who is a fugitive from U.S. justice on a parole violation charge, is reported to be living in the Cuban capital.

He was not identified, but Lynn Bell of Piedmont, Calif., a passenger, took moving pictures of him as he left the plane in Havana. Bell said the film was taken from him by an FBI agent when the plane reached Miami.

Mayor To Be Liberal Candidate

Lindsay, Wagner Both Defeated In New York Voting

NEW YORK (AP) — In a mayoral primary that echoed a trend set in Los Angeles and Minneapolis, conservatives wrested the Republican nomination from Mayor John V. Lindsay and wrecked former Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner's comeback bid Tuesday.

Lindsay, who will be on the November ballot as Liberal party candidate, was narrowly defeated by a little - known state senator from Staten Island, John J. Marchi, who also has the Conservative party nomination. The final unofficial count was 111,725 to 106,358.

Wagner lost to Italian-born City Comptroller Mario A. Procaccino, who rejected the label of "law-and-order candidate" but was the most conservative in a five-man Democratic field. He won with only about a third of the vote.

Bronx Borough President Herman Badillo, who was born in Puerto Rico, ran a close third. Author Norman Mailer and Rep. James H. Scheuer trailed.

The vote was Procaccino 252,283, Wagner 221,605, Badillo 215,381, Mailer 41,136, Scheuer 38,631.

Lindsay assailed the "forces of reaction and backlash" that he said had taken "temporary" control of both parties in the city.

Oil Slick On Mississippi Seen Danger To Wildlife

ALMA, Wis. (AP) — An ugly film of oil spread for 25 miles along the scenic upper Mississippi River from a recked barge today as Minnesota and Wisconsin conservationists wrung their hands over its impact on wildlife.

"It's like living in a refinery," said James Everson, a Wisconsin conservation warden. "A lot of people are pretty unhappy. All of a sudden we get a big slug of petroleum right in the middle of some of the clearest water on the Mississippi."

The barge carried 567,000 gallons of oil. Its captain, Chester Forkum, said about 400,000 gallons escaped into the river.

The river current quickly thinned the film in the main channel. But winds pushed the slick into bayous and left it stranded in still water containing plant and insect life needed by fish, waterfowl and other wildlife.

"There is no way to determine in just a few days what the loss of food sources will do to the life cycles of fish and ducks that need that food," Everson said. "We already have one biologist talking about the impact two years from now."

The film glistened brownish red, green and yellow as it glided through the locks of the Alma dam and spread downstream. When it encountered an obstruction, such as a dam wall or a riverside weed, it wrinkled into a sludge-like layer up to four inches thick.

Everson estimated the film covered 75 per cent of the river's surface, "a matter of thousands of acres."

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers marked their fourth anniversary in the Vietnam war today as North Vietnamese troops stepped up attacks on American installations in the areas near Laos and Cambodia.

Spokesmen said the enemy killed 13 Americans and wounded 28 in two fierce assaults early today while 72 North Vietnamese died.U.S. military analysts said captured enemy documents indicated the Communist Command has ordered increased sapper attacks on American bases.

About 200 North Vietnamese infantrymen and sappers assaulted a base of the 1st Brigade, 5th Mechanized Infantry Division, three miles south of the abandoned Khe Sanh combat base, with machine guns, rifles and rocket-propelled grenades. The base is four miles from the Laotian border.

U.S. defenders returned the fire, helicopter gunships rushed to their aid and fighting raged for about two hours. The North Vietnamese withdrew leaving 35 of their dead, some of them strung along the barbed wire perimeter of the base.

U.S. headquarters said 10 Americans were killed and 12 wounded.

Apollo 11 Gets New 'Go' For July 16 Trip

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 11 man-on-the-moon mission has received a new go-ahead o aim for a July 16 launching.

The Apollo program director, Air Force Lt. Gen. Samuel Phillips, gave the proceed order Tuesday night after a nine-hour flight readiness review in which he received reports on all aspects of the mission.

Phillips said the only major unsolved problem involves a guidance system which misbehaved on last month's Apollo 10 moon orbit trip and caused the lunar module to gyrate for several seconds before the astronauts controlled it.

"Although this problem is not completely resolved at this time, I am confident this will not become a constraint to the July launch," the Apollo director said.

The Apollo astronauts, Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins, planned several hours in spaceship simulators today, with Armstrong and Aldrin also rehearsing what they intend to do during 2½ hours walking on the moon.

Arguments That Deserve Attention

Mayor George E. Willshaw and the East Liverpool Historical Society have come up with some very persuasive arguments as to why $250,000 or more should not be spent in erecting a new building at 2nd and Market Sts. to house an Ohio Pottery Museum.

The Ohio Historical Society at Columbus, in rejecting its original plan to use the old post office building at E. 5th St. and Broadway as the site for the museum, said it would erect a new structure on 2nd St. so as to incorporate as one of its exhibits a beehive kiln of the old Brunt Pottery, terming it "the last of its kind in Ohio."

THE MAYOR and the historical society, in separate letters to the Ohio society, said they feel the new structure should be erected closer to the cenral business district if the old post office is not utilized.

The local historical society listed a host of reasons against the 2nd St. site, including the fact that the area is subject to flooding, it is close to the Penn Central railroad tracks and the proposed extension of the Freeway and it has been set aside in the city's "master plan" for future industrial development.

The Ohio society's primary reason for suggesting the site at 2nd and Market Sts. appeared to be based on the fact that the Brunt beehive kiln could be utilized as a major attraction.

The old kiln probably would need complete rebuilding to become a worthwhile exhibit. If that's the case, it can be rebuilt just as well on any site — not necessarily the spot on 2nd St.

The Ohio society would do well to listen to the local society's advice — and the mayor's comments, also — on a location for the museum. The local society said the structure might be placed at E. 4th St. and Broadway or the museum might be erected as an addition to the Carnegie Public Library.

FOLLOWING the Ohio tradition of "home rule," the Ohio Highway Department always consults the local government on location and construction details before undertaking a highway project within the city limits. First of all, it wants to glean the knowledge of conditions unique to those who live in the community. Secondly, it wants to make certain that the plans suit the majority of local residents.

For the same reasons, the Ohio Historical Society should give weight to the arguments advanced by the local historical society and the mayor.

Best Foot . . .

Everyone has fond memories of a little town in a distant state were a traffic policeman was particulary courteous or a retail sales clerk answered a stranger's questions politely.

Those small but pleasant impressions linger with visitors for years. Often a visitor's whole recollection of a community—for good or ill—is based on an experience with one or two persons.

That's why it's so important for every East Liverpool resident to put his best foot forward with visitors to the Tri-State Pottery Festival. Many strangers will be here, our guests at the celebration. They will carry away memories of East Liverpool that will be fond or bitter, depending upon the actions of each one of us.

East Liverpool has a reputation as a community of polite, thoughtful people. Let's all be particularly careful to live up to that reputation during the pottery festival.

Keeping The Powder Dry

We read and hear much these days about arms control and arms limitation.

Disparaging remarks about the military-industrial complex are a dime a dozen.

Vietnam is a nasty word. Our involvement there has been largely responsible for disruptive campus demonstrations and has created a general atmosphere of unrest.

NO ONE LIKES WAR. Certainly no American wants to get involved again in an adventure such as the Southeast Asian fiasco.

A wave of isolationism is sweeping the country. People are weary over fighting what they have come to believe are other people's wars.

Sentiment is growing to withdraw within our own borders, or at least our own hemisphere, and discard the assumed role of the world's policeman.

Peace, love and disarmament are wonderful things.

If every nation in the world would adopt a simultaneous policy against meddling in the affairs of every other nation and make it stick, there would be little reason for armies, navies, atomic bombs and weapons of destruction.

But don't hold your breath until it happens.

What most advocates of disarmaent appear not to understand is that the move to wholly peaceful pursuits cannot be unilateral.

While we are disarming and disbanding large elements of our armed forces, what, for example, are the Russians and the Chinese doing?

In this world where distrust reigns, no nation is going to strip itself of defensive capabilities. If it does, it ultimately will become a sitting duck for the aggressors.

DISARMAMENT TALKS with other major powers are recommended. Again, a very worthy motive. But what prospects for success have they ever had or will they ever have? We believe, regrettably, virtually none.

There are those who believe we should undertake a disarmament program as a show of good faith. Others, it is suggested, may follow the same example. But who will know for sure without adequate provisions for inspection, a prerequisite that has never been acceptable to the Comunists.

America will be well advised not to let down its guard in an ill-tempered world.

A Suggestion

Saturday once more pointed up the problem of access to City Hospital during the traffic jam that results when horse racing fans head for Waterford Park by way of the Newell Bridge and adjacent routes.

We have been informed of one instance where it took a motorist some 50 minutes to get from East End to the hospital with a youngster who had suffered a head injury—and then only by a circuitous route.

Almost at the same time, another resident was forced to carry an injured child several blocks to reach the emergency room while his wife sought frantically for a parking place.

City officials and others are well aware of the problem and have been endeavoring to alleviate the situation, including adjusting parking regulations in the area. But continued efforts are in order. An officer to direct traffic during rush period would be one suggestion.

If individual cars can't get through, consider the problem faced by an ambulance when time could be the difference between life and death.

Remodeled Ship Of State

The French ship of state to be engineered by Georges Pompidou will not lose its over-all Gaullist shape, but will be an extensively refurbished model of the Charles de Gaulle original.

In his winning campaign, Mr. Pompidou was lavish in his praise of Gen. De Gaulle and defended his own Gaullist record as premier.

A CLUE to his policy is found by coupling his campaign pledge to operate a more liberal and flexible government than did Gen. De Gaulle with the experts' prediction that he will quickly name Jacques Chaban-Delmas his premier.

Mr. Chaban-Delmas has been president of the National Assembly since 1952 and a loyal supporter of Gen. De Gaulle since World War II.

Even in his election victory announcement, Mr. Pompidou paid additional tribute to his former president by saying "The vote today seems to me to constitute a consolidation and even a consecration of this great reform that we owe to Gen De Gaulle."

So it would seem that the new French president will be attempting to marry the strength of the De Gaulle regime to new ideas and flexibility of the Pompidou era.

Two factors are in the favor of the new president.

His election margin of more than 57 per cent of the vote was greater than that achieved by Gen. De Gaulle in the 1965 election which can be viewed as a mandate for action.

Also, for the next four years Mr. Pompidou will be working with the Gaullist majority in the French National Assembly which he helped put into office as campaign manager for Gen. De Gaulle's team last year.

Pompidou programs should find warm support in the National Assembly.

AS A WHOLE Mr. Pompidou's views on a united Europe, an expanded Common Market and better relations with the United States seem in accord with the aspirations of Western leaders and his forthcoming policy decisions should have a good impact on the international scene.

It is to be hoped the aloofness and blind independence of the De Gaulle regime is at an end.

Rhodes' Legislative Veto

Gov. James A. Rhodes' veto of a bill permitting Ohio Highway Patrol officers to be called into local civil disorders probably will be misunderstood on two counts.

Nothing more than a cursory glance at the Governor's veto action might lead some Ohioans to believe Mr. Rhodes is opposed to use of the patrol in riot situations — which is not true.

GOV. RHODES would like to see legislation allowing patrol intervention in any civil disturbance including those arising from strikes or other labor trouble.

The governor expressed concern that should the present House bill become law "it would give fresh emphasis to the concept that the state Highway Patrol is not available under any circumstances involving a strike or labor dispute . . ."

In other words, he seeks to make the legislation more inclusive.

The other misinterpretation of the veto will come from labor which no doubt will be chastising the governor for his adamant position on including labor strife in the list of areas subject to patrol authority.

The Governor is opposed to language in the bill that prohibits sending patrolmen into labor-related trouble at state institutions. He says this poses a "real danger in the event of a strike or labor dispute at a correctional insitution or Lima State Hospital."

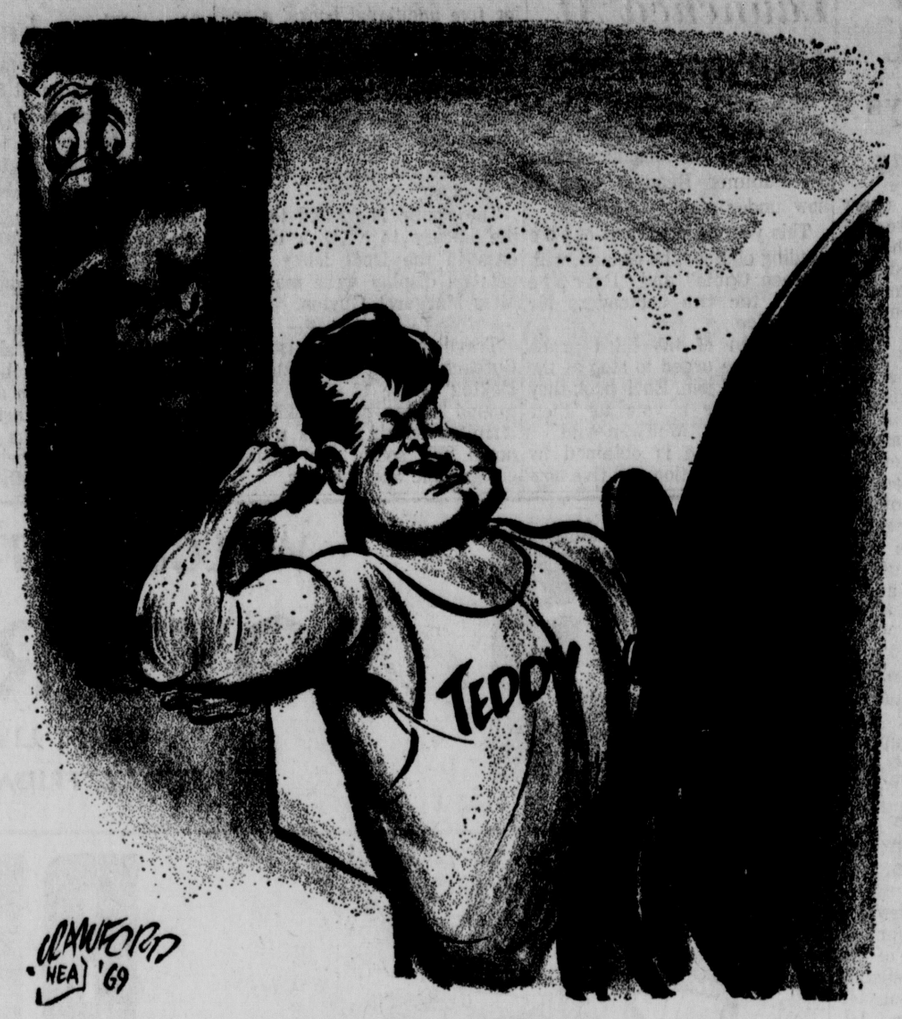

What the Governor is proposing in no way infringes upon labor's right to bargain with an employe even to the point of striking.

THE PATROL would be used only when laws are being broken — and even labor doesn't have the right to operate outside the law with impunity.

The governor has suggested lawmakers combine the bill expanding use of the Highway Patrol with another measure establishing a Department of Public Safety.

This method of working out the matter seems both sensible and efficient.

'I Still Say It's Just Baby Fat!'

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor Problems For Nixon

WASHINGTON — Now the hysteria can simmer down. There is no more chance that President Nixon will ever seek a wage-price freeze than there is of Hades icing over — barring a world war. That's certain, absolute and positive.

Victor Riesel

Fact is, that one of Mr. Nixon's truly weighty advisers said, soon after he heard Secretary of the Treasury David Kennedy urge wage-price controls as a possible anti-inflation weapon, "that man has foot-in-mouth disease . . . furthermore, Mr. Nixon and Paul McCracken (Chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers) have not spent 10 minutes seriously considering such ceilings since the day the Administration took office."

After conversations with White House intimates of the President, it is accurate to reflect Mr. Nixon's policy and philosophy as follows:

He'll do nothing dramatic or startling — and that's dramatic news in itself.

The pressure will be gradual.

MR. NIXON well knows that swift pumping of the employed into a huge pool of jobless would throw the nation's ghettos into raw brutal depression.

Unhappily, there will be more unemployment — at least another 500,000 to 600,000 by next October. But that's unavoidable. Mostly unemployment will hit white-collar people, technicians, and middle-class workers. By the end of October the total joblessness will be inching past the 3.2-million mark.

There will be an outcry. Prices will be rising. Money will still be tight. Imports will be flooding the country. "Things" will be bad — and noisy.

The opposition will have a propaganda field day. The Democrats will thunder. The liberals will assault. The intellectuals of our world will unite and fight. Labor will protest.

But by next spring — just about a year from now — the White House expects "it" will all level off. And by the end of 1970 Mr. Nixon expects the nation to be back to full prosperity under stable prices.

He does not believe there will be a recession. He is positive there'll be no depression.

As one of his aides put it, "there's nothing like gradual gradualism."

To attempt wage-price controls now would thrust Richard Nixon into the role of Britain's laborite Prime Minister Harold Wilson. Her Majesty's eloquent first minister has tried this. He finds that even the awe of the government's power can't control shop stewards, much less the unions themselves.

MR. NIXON, FOR EXAMPLE, hardly sees himself dueling with local building and construction trades business agents and local officials. Wage-price controls would force him and his Cabinet's key men into just that Quixotic posture.

In this District itself, the President can see "skyscrapers" standing gaunt and skeletonized by a carpenters' strike which started May 1. Excavation work has been paralized on the FBI's new headquarters site. The Southeast Freeway is stalled. Construction on at least seven other large buildings and one plaza is crippled. The carpenters demand a wage-benefit package of $3 an hour over the three year contract — or, on a 40-hour base, a $120 hike per week per man after the second year.

In Eastern Massachusetts brother carpenters struck for $126 increase per man per week over a two-year pact.

In Wilmington, Del., millwrights have been striking for a $228 weekly wage increase per man per week over a two-year contract (a rate which would start after the first year).

IN WYOMING, iron workers have struck for $164.80 weekly increase per man per week over a two-year compact.

And yet there are observers who've said that Mr. Nixon would not face a major strike threat until 1970 or 1971. Well, there now are 200,000 craftsmen out on strike.

That's mighty major.

Especially since the $99 billion building and construction field is the nation's largest homogeneous industry.

These demands and stoppages don't insinuate that all construction union chiefs or local leaders won't cooperate with the government or contractors. It does mean that there are some mighty tough local men in some mighty strategic positions. And they're not about to be argued out of anything.

So in addition to President Nixon's distaste for wage-price federal controls, and for the machinery for policing any such legislation, Mr. Nixon just doesn't see himself and his aides going into battle on a thousand fronts.

One White House colleage summed it all up simply with. "There's zero chance for controls, wage-price or anything like that. We're just going to continue doing what we're doing."

Supreme Court Off Base

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court of the United States has again resorted to a maze of technicalities in deciding an important case, and has ruled that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell was improperly excluded from the House of Representatives.

Stress was placed only on the argument that Mr. Powell conformed to the constitutional requirement as to age, citizenship and residency in the state from which he was elected. But there is another part of the constitution which the high court brushed aside.

ARTICLE I, Section 5, says: "Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior and, with the concurrence of two thirds, expel a member."

What is "disorderly behavior"? The high court gave little weight to the report of a committee of the House which stated that "Powell had asserted an unwarranted privilege and immunity from the processes of the courts of New York; that he had wrongfully diverted House funds for the use of others and himself; and that he had made false reports on expenditures of foreign currency to the Committee on House Administration."

THOUGH POWELL was found by the House committee to be guilty of these offenses, the Supreme Court confined irself to whether the procedures used to exclude him from his seat were proper. Yet, whether it is called "exclusion" or "explusion," the House has a constitutional right to deny a seat to a person who has been adjudged to have committed wrongdoings.

Considerable emphasis was placed by the court on the assertion that each house of representatives, elected for two years, is a separate entitly, and that the denial of membership by the 90th Congress "cannot be treated as an expulsion." It further said that the voters, merely by the election, had obtained the seat for Mr. Powell and that, though there was more than a two-thirds vote cast against him by the House of Representatives, he nevertheless was entitled to membership.

The high court dclared the House is "without authority to exclude any person, duly elected by his constituents, who meets all the requirements for membership expressly prescribed in the Constitition." The court said that it "will not speculate what the result might have been if Powell had been seated and expulsion proceedings subsequently instituted.

To the American people, the difference between "exclude" and "expel" will hardly appear to be material to the main point — namely, that Powell was adjudged by the House to be guilty of "disorderly behavior" and was not regarded as qualified for membership in Congress.

The House of Represenatives can still ask the Department of Justice to conduct proceedings with respect to the misuse of funds, and, of course, even without such action, Congress has a right to interpret for itself what is meant by "disorderly behavior" for which a member can be expelled.

The whole case would seem to be one which leaves the impression that, no matter what offense an individual has committed, he can still become a member of the House of Representatives if he is elected and is a resident of a certain state and has attained a certain age. Members of Congress can, therefore, engage in any kind of wrongdoing, but if re-elected by their states or districts, they are eligible to take their seats.

THE PUBLIC is not likely to agree that anyone guilty of the offenses listed after a special House committee investigation is entitled to a seat whether or not the offenses were committed during a preceding Congress. For the fact still remains that each House is the true judge not only of the "qualifications" of its members but whether they are guilty of any "disorderly behavior."

The main point made by the lawyers who defended the House of Reprsentatives in the case before the Supreme Court was that "the House may expel a member for any reason whatsoever and that, since a two-thirds vote was obtained, the procedure by which Powell was denied his seat in the 90th Congress should be regarded as an expuslion not an exclusion."

But the Supreme Court apparently refuses to let the House make its own rules, as the Constitution prescribes, or to take whatever steps it deems necessary to punish "disorderly behavior."

Code Of Ethics For Justices

Chief Justice To Miss Achieving 1 Major Goal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren will leave the Supreme Court with a major goal unaccomplished: Having the justices bind themselves to a code of ethics.

With a bit of grumbling, the U.S. Judicial Conference adopted at Warren's behest earlier this month rules requiring federal judges to forsake off-bench compensation and to file annual financial statements.

This code, a byproduct of Abe Fortas' resignation from the court, does not apply to the justices.

A statement issued by the court Tuesday said the chief justice had suggested "the propriety of the justices taking similar action" at a conference last Friday.

But, the statement added, the subject was put off until next term by decision of "a majority." The statement did not say how Warren and his eight associates lined up.

The Court's final public session under Warren is Monday. Warren E. Burger will be sworn in to succeed him and the Warren Court will pass into history.

The resignation of Fortas after accepting the first $20,000 payment of a lifetime fee from the Wolfson Family Foundation cast a shadow over the Court. Warren was known to have wanted the judiciary to clean house before he left—and before congressional pressures boiled over into extra-stiff legislation.

However, the statement said "some of the justices"—it did not say which ones—urged that no action be taken now because the term is almost over, a new chief justice is joining the court and a replacement for Fortas is to be named.

This does not preclude the justices from making independent decisions to pass up nonjudicial jobs and to file financial reports.

Justice William J. Brennan Jr., it was learned recently, has canceled speeches, sold stock bequeathed by his mother and given up his interest in a real estate venture in which Fortas participated.

And with the Tuesday comment was one from Justice Thurgood Marshall saying he had decided to abide by the Judicial Conference's resolutions —except that he will file his report with his colleagues.

Chester Man Shaken Up In 2-Way Crash

A 63-year-old Chester man was shaken up, but apparently not hurt seriously, in a two-way collision Tuesday at 7:13 p.m. on W. 5th St. 20 feet west of Market St., police reported.

The collision involved a 1967 sedan driven by Clarence E. Moore, 63, of 350 Carolina Ave., Chester, and a 1964 sedan operated by Kenneth A. White 29, of 9th Ave., LaCroft. Moore was treated and released at the hospital for nervousness, police said.

Both autos were westbound on the one - way stretch. Moore said his auto was in the right-hand lane and as he approached the intersection of Market St. another auto pulled from a parking spot. Moore said he swerved to the left, causing his auto to hit the White car, which was in the left - hand lane.

White told officers he was in the left-hand lane, following Moore. He said Moore pulled from the left lane into the right lane. White said Moore then swung back into the left-hand lane, hitting White's car in the right side.

The driver of the car pulling from the curb was identified as James Zanos of Pittsburgh. His car was undamaged.

A local man was cited on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way in a mishap on Lincoln Ave. at St. Clair Ave. Tuesday at 3:25 p. m

Officers cited Harley E. Reed, 52, of Pond St. following a collision between his 1958 four-door sedan and a 1966 coupe driven by Barbara A. Horner, 22, of Oakmont.

The young woman told officers she had halted for a red traffic light on Broadway. As it turned green, she started across the intersection to Lincoln Ave. and Reed made a left turn, striking her auto, she said. Reed told officers he was headed south on Lincoln Ave. and intending to turn north on St. Clair. Skid marks indicated both cars were traveling slowly, officers said.

A skidding auto struck a utility pole Tuesday at 2:45 p. m. on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd," officers said.

The pole was bumped by a 1965 two - door hardtop driven by Steven Conkle, 17, of 1835 Dakota Ave. There was damage to the left rear fender of the auto, registered to William Conkle of the same address.

The youth told officers his car stalled as he halted after pulling off Ravine St. toward Pennsylvania Ave. When the motor started again, he stepped on the accelerator, causing the auto to slide on loose gravel and hit the pole, he said.

Bill Goes To House

Pennsylvania Senate OKs Transportation Proposal

HARRISBURG (AP) — A Shafer administration proposal calling for creation of a Department of Transportation in state government has cleared its first legislative hurdle.

The Senate passed the enabling bill Tuesday and sent the measure to the House. The vote was 33-10 with nine of the opponents coming from Gov. Shafer's Republican Party.

In other key action, the Senate approved a $7 million deficiency appropriation to meet increased public assistance costs in the remaining two weeks of the fiscal year.

THE HOUSE occupied time with amendment writing, inserting significant changes into a labor - backed public employe bill and another measure dealing with curbs on movies.

The proposed new Department of Transportation, nicknamed PennDOT, would replace the present Department of Highways, but assume responsibilities far beyond road building.

PennDOT would take over motor vehicle and operator licensing and traffic safety from Revenue and mass transit programs from Community Affairs, in addition to other functions.

The deficiency appropriation for Welfare passed, 40-2, after minority Democrats tried unsucessfully to incease the outlay to $33 million.

DEMOCRATS maintained that $33 million was the actual need, but that the administration planned to borrow $26 million from next - year's budget to avoid a deficit this year.

The House voted 107-87 in favor of an amendment that would exempt teachers from a bill to grant public employes the right of collective bargaining.

The vote was a victory for the Pennsylvania State Education Association, which believes teachers should be handled by separate legislation, and a defeat for the Pennsylvania AFL-CIO.

Minority Republicans, getting some support from diissident Democrats, pushed the amendment, which may have dealt a death blow to the bill itself.

Lawmakers on both sides of the aisle, voicing displeasure with the labor bill, said they would propose alternative legislation that would go much further.

REP. Gerald Kaufman, D-Allegheny, planned to introduce a bill that in addition to granting public employe bargaining rights would also give them the limited right to strike.

Rep. Fred Taylor, D-Fayette, offered the second House amendment to a bill that would prohibit the showing of previews of adult - only movies between features billed as family entertainment.

Taylor's amendment sought to spell out the types of films that could not be shown to persons 18 years or younger. He said he was concerned with the growing emphasis of sex in films.

"We are making sex a national spectator sport," Taylor said in a lively floor speech. "Sex is actually a participation sport."

The bill's chief sponsor, Rep. James J. Gallen, R-Berks, opposed the amendment. Gallen said the amendment was aimed against pornography, whereas his bill was aimed at false advertising.

The DOCTOR Says

Dr. Brandstadt

With an estimated 38 million Americans seeking recreation in over eight million pleasure boats, some accidents are bound to occur. Most of these are the fault of the operator and 17 per cent of the injuries incured involved boats that were towing water skiers.

The commonest causes of boating accidents are failure of the operator to keep a proper lookout for hazards, overloading the boat and stunting by inexperienced operators. The U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, the U.S. Power Squadron and the American Red Cross offer basic courses in seamanship and the handling of small craft.

Oars, fire extinguisher and a bailing can should be carried in the boat at all times. If the craft you are in swamps or capsizes, hang on until help arrives. Don't try to swim to shore because it is always farther away than it looks and you may become exhausted. Don't stand up in a small craft or sit on the bow, stern or sides.

The law requires that every motorboat carry a life preserver for each passenger. The National Safety Council conducted a study to determine what type is best. Although the buoyant cushion is the cheapest, it is not the best because it slips away easily and is no help to a person who has lost consciousness.

The buoyant belt worn around the waist, chiefly by water skiers, won't hold your head out of the water. They are not recommended for nonswimmers. If the belt slips below the hips, it becomes even harder to keep your head above water and if you are unconscious you will drown.

—:—

The yoke buoyant vest will keep your head out of the water, allowing you to relax completely. Although not foolproof, it is probably the best type available and is especially recommended for children and nonswimmers. They should wear this type of jacket at all times when they are in a boat.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Reading Club Launched At Library Here

Mrs. Hilda McEwen, children's librarian at Carnegie Library here, has announced that the Summer Reading Club is now under way.

This year a president of the reading club will be elected, with "Green Gable" and "Purple Paul" the two contenders for the office.

Children of the third grade and up are urged to stop at the library and join. Each book they read will be a vote for their favorite. Mrs. McEwen said.

A certificate is obtained by reading five fiction and five nonfiction volumes. For an additional 10 books read, a gold seal is placed on the certificate, and for five additional books, a red ribbon is added to the seal.

For 30 books read, a child receives a certificate with a blue ribbon and gold seal and an invitation to a party in September, when the contest will come to a close.

The public is invited to visit the library to view a display case in the front lobby. Puppets on display were made by Mrs. Margaret Guyton.

The Citizens Committee for Better Schools spent $780 in its successful campaign for enactment of two levies totaling 12 mills at the May primaries, it was shown in a sworn statement of expenses filed Tuesday with the County Election Board.

The report was signed by Leo C. Lawrence and James Lowe, as co - chairmen of the committee. The report showed the committee had a balance of $351.23 and $41.58 in a checking account before it started its financial appeal for the May election. The overall receipts totaled $1,337.81, including the previous balance. It listed 50 contributions ranging from $5 to $100 from individuals and groups.

The committee concluded the campaign with a balance of $557.72. It said the funds will be "retained for the next necessary campaign for a school issue." At the same time, School Supt. Paul Blair filed a report on behalf of the Board of Education showing it spent nothing in the campaign.

Friday at 4 p.m. is the deadline for filing campaign expense statements with the Election Board. They are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from committees which supported or opposed any aspirant or issue.

Commissioners And Engineers Talk About Tax

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Commissioners and engineers of Ohio's 88 counties opened their three-day meeting in Cleveland Tuesday with most discussion centered around a proposed permissive county income tax before the Ohio Legislature.

"We would be happier if it were mandated rather than permissive," said Laurence Dumford of Fayette County, president of the County Commissioner Association of Ohio. The "permissive" clause allows counties to enact or ingore the tax at their choosing.

Commissioner Gary J. Thompson of Trumbull County, who was a member of a state tax committee that studied the proposal, said he was disappointed in the proposed distrubution of the tax.

"We were given to understand the counties' share would be larger, that they would receive most of the tax. But now it has been changed," he said.

As proposed, 60 per cent of the tax funds would go to schools, 10 per cent to the respective communities in which it is collected, and only 10 per cent to the counties. The remaining 20 per cent would be used as needed.

High Court Sifts Landmark Ruling In Murderer's Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court is considering what may be a landmark decision in the case of convicted murderer Cleo Vernon Keaton of Dayton.

Keaton, 31, was scheduled to die in the electric chair Friday. The high court however, granted him an identifinite stay of execution to hear an appeal of a sanity ruling made in his case earlier.

The appeal represents the first test of Ohio laws on the sanity of a man for the purpose of execution.

Keaton was convicted in Pickaway County in 1965 in the fatal slaying of Maurice Francis, 50, of Williamsport. He also was charged in the slaying of three Dayton persons at the time of the Francis murder.

Keaton's death sentence was stayed last November when the warden of the Ohio Penitentiary said there was some doubt about the convict's sanity. Keaton was sent to Lima State Hospital for observation and later ruled sane.

Franklin County Common Pleas Court Judge Myron E. Gessaman then ruled that Keaton was sane enough to be executed, and set down a definition of legal sanity for use in execution cases. No such definition previously existed, even in Ohio law.

Keaton's attorneys have based their appeal on the fact that there are two entirely different sanity definitions. One is applied by the governor when considering reprive and the other issued by the court, which is now being applied.

Attorneys also are challenging the 10th District ourt of Appeals ruling which upheld Gessaman's order of executional execution. They maintain that his sanity ruling is not an appealable order.

'Head Start' Officials Urge 2 New Year-Round Centers

LISBON — "Head Start" leaders discussed the pre-school training program Tuesday night during the monthly meeting of the Community Action Agency of Columbiana County, Inc., at the welfare department conference room.

They said there is a need for two more year-round centers like the three now operating—two in East Liverpool and one in Wellsville.

The two - month summer centers now operating should be continued, they said, because they reach youngsters in rural areas.

The discussions were led by Miss Ann Johnston of East Liverpool, "Head Start" director, and Lionel Smith of Salem, CAA director.

They said the summer program at nine centers costs $21,000 and reaches 135 children, while the nine-month program in East Liverpool and Wellsville costs $81,000 and reaches 45 children.

An application will be made for funds to operate five year-round centers.

Alonzo Spencer of East Liverpool, chairman of the board, presided. Daniel Butch of Leetonia, CAA treasurer, presented an extensive report of the various funds.

Smith said that Mark Eyerman, VISTA planner with the county CAA the past year, is now employed in the Great Lakes office of the Office of Economic Opportunity at Chicago and will be there until September when he plans to begin graduate study.

The CAA took under consideration an appeal for help with a day care center Wellsville residents have opened at 11th and Center Sts.

Smith, Spencer, Robert Skinner of East Liverpool and John K. Douglas of Salineville were elected to attend a CAA workshop June 27-29 at Akron.

County Man Fined In Sale Of Fireworks

LISBON — Walter N. Thompson, 28, of Rogers RD 1 was fined $100 and costs Tuesday by Judge J. L. MacDonald in Columbiana County Southwest Court for selling fireworks.

Sheriff's Deputy Richard Koffel cited him last Saturday after he and village police investigated a series of explosions Friday night and early Saturday in the village and along the old Steubenville Rd.

Officers confiscated 1,000 "silver salutes," or cherry bombs, Saturday at Thompson's home near Elkton. They said he told them he bought them in Indiana for $2 per box of 50 and was reselling them for $6.50.

Judge MacDonald revoked the operator's license of Kenneth W. Shell of Alliance after he pleaded guilty Tuesday to a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. Shell was fined $150 and costs and was sentenced to seven days in the County Jail.

The court suspended for 30 days the operator's license of Roosevelt Wetzel, Wellsville RD 1, who pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless operation. He was fined $50.

Also fined were Alvin E. Wheatley, Hanoverton RD 1, speeding, and Raymond H. Over, Minerva RD 2, failure to stop in an assured clear distance, $25 each, and Anthony J. Skalican, Canton, left of center, $10.

Paul W. Miller, Salineville RD, cited on a charge of public intoxication, forfeited a $25 appearance bond.

Store Lists Loot In City Burglary

Keith Sevy, operator of Sevy's Pharmacy on St. Clair Ave., Maplewood, furnished police Tuesday afternoon with an inventory of the drugs and merchandise taken from his store early yesterday by three burglars.

In addition to the $440 in cash listed in the initial report, the loss included 23 items of drugs; two camera worth $19.95 and $13.95, respectively; 10 cartons of cigarettes valued at $30 and an assortment of cigarette lighters valued at $42.

The missing drug items, listed after an inventory, include Demorol, Dolphine, morphine sulphate, codeine sulfate, opium powder, codeine phosphate, tincture of opium and many others.

Sevy and his wife entered the store shortly after midnight, discovering the burglary in progress. One of the three intruders held a gun on the couple, forcing them to lie on the floor while the job of looting the drug room continued. The three then fled in Sevy's auto, which was found a few blocks away.

SICKROOM FLOWERS OR PLANTS ARE NOT HARMFUL

It is not true that flowers or plants in their rooms can harm sick persons. Medical authorities agree that they could not possibly use up enough oxygen, or give up sufficient carbon dioxide to harm the occupant.

It is true that some people, not too many, are allergic to some of the exotic odors of certain flowers, especially lilies or roses. Also, in crowded wards there is little space available for them. Some understaffed hospitals do not have the labor to take care of flowers.

General Electric Struck By 1,400 At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Approximately 1,400 machinists struck the General Electric Co. here shortly before midnight Tuesday in a dispute over what they called "unresolved grievances."

Picketlines were set up at the gates of the huge plant in suburban Evendale. It was not immediately known whether other employes reporting on later shifts would honor them.

About 15,000 persons are employed at the plant.

The orderly walkout began about 11:30 p. m.

A spokesman for the workers, members of International Association of Machinists Lodge 912, said the decision to strike came Tuesday morning after company officials refused to submit certain grievances to arbitration.

Neither the company nor worker representatives disclosed specific grievances that precipitated the walkout.

Arguments That Deserve Attention

Mayor George E. Willshaw and the East Liverpool Historical Society have come up with some very persuasive arguments as to why $250,000 or more should not be spent in erecting a new building at 2nd and Market Sts. to house an Ohio Pottery Museum.

The Ohio Historical Society at Columbus, in rejecting its original plan to use the old post office building at E. 5th St. and Broadway as the site for the museum, said it would erect a new structure on 2nd St. so as to incorporate as one of its exhibits a beehive kiln of the old Brunt Pottery, terming it "the last of its kind in Ohio."

THE MAYOR and the historical society, in separate letters to the Ohio society, said they feel the new structure should be erected closer to the cenral business district if the old post office is not utilized.

The local historical society listed a host of reasons against the 2nd St. site, including the fact that the area is subject to flooding, it is close to the Penn Central railroad tracks and the proposed extension of the Freeway and it has been set aside in the city's "master plan" for future industrial development.

The Ohio society's primary reason for suggesting the site at 2nd and Market Sts. appeared to be based on the fact that the Brunt beehive kiln could be utilized as a major attraction.

The old kiln probably would need complete rebuilding to become a worthwhile exhibit. If that's the case, it can be rebuilt just as well on any site — not necessarily the spot on 2nd St.

The Ohio society would do well to listen to the local society's advice — and the mayor's comments, also — on a location for the museum. The local society said the structure might be placed at E. 4th St. and Broadway or the museum might be erected as an addition to the Carnegie Public Library.

FOLLOWING the Ohio tradition of "home rule," the Ohio Highway Department always consults the local government on location and construction details before undertaking a highway project within the city limits. First of all, it wants to glean the knowledge of conditions uniqure to those who live in the community. Secondly, it wants to make certain that the plans suit the majority of local residents.

For the same reasons, the Ohio Historical Society should give weight to the arguments advanced by the local historical society and the mayor.

Best Foot . . .

Everyone has fond memories of a little town in a distant state were a traffic policeman was particulary courteous or a retail sales clerk answered a stranger's questions politely.

Those small but pleasant impressions linger with visitors for years. Often a visitor's whole recollection of a community—for good or ill—is based on an experience with one or two persons.

That's why it's so important for every East Liverpool resident to put his best foot forward with visitors to the Tri-State Pottery Festival. Many strangers will be here, our guests at the celebration. They will carry away memories of East Liverpool that will be fond or bitter, depending upon the actions of each one of us.

East Liverpool has a reputation as a community of polite, thoughtful people. Let's all be particularly careful to live up to that reputation during the pottery festival.

Keeping The Powder Dry

We read and hear much these days about arms control and arms limitation.

Disparaging remarks about the military-industrial complex are a dime a dozen.

Vietnam is a nasty word. Our involvement there has been largely responsible for disruptive campus demonstrations and has created a general atmosphere of unrest.

NO ONE LIKES WAR. Certainly no American wants to get involved again in an adventure such as the Southeast Asian fiasco.

A wave of isolationism is sweeping the country. People are weary over fighting what they have come to believe are other people's wars.

Sentiment is growing to withdraw within our own borders, or at least our own hemisphere, and discard the assumed role of the world's policeman.

Peace, love and disarmament are wonderful things.

If every nation in the world would adopt a simultaneous policy against meddling in the affairs of every other nation and make it stick, there would be little reason for armies, navies, atomic bombs and weapons of destruction.

But don't hold your breath until it happens.

What most advocates of disarmaent appear not to understand is that the move to wholly peaceful pursuits cannot be unilateral.

While we are disarming and disbanding large elements of our armed forces, what, for example, are the Russians and the Chinese doing?

In this world where distrust reigns, no nation is going to strip itself of defensive capabilities. If it does, it ultimately will become a sitting duck for the aggressors.

DISARMAMENT TALKS with other major powers are recommended. Again, a very worthy motive. But what prospects for success have they ever had or will they ever have? We believe, regrettably, virtually none.

There are those who believe we should undertake a disarmament program as a show of good faith. Others, it is suggested, may follow the same example. But who will know for sure without adequate provisions for inspection, a prerequisite that has never been acceptable to the Comunists.

America will be well advised not to let down its guard in an ill-tempered world.

A Suggestion

Saturday once more pointed up the problem of access to City Hospital during the traffic jam that results when horse racing fans head for Waterford Park by way of the Newell Bridge and adjacent routes.

We have been informed of one instance where it took a motorist some 50 minutes to get from East End to the hospital with a youngster who had suffered a head injury—and then only by a circuitous route.

Almost at the same time, another resident was forced to carry an injured child several blocks to reach the emergency room while his wife sought frantically for a parking place.

City officials and others are well aware of the problem and have been endeavoring to alleviate the situation, including adjusting parking regulations in the area. But continued efforts are in order. An officer to direct traffic during rush period would be one suggestion.

If individual cars can't get through, consider the problem faced by an ambulance when time could be the difference between life and death.

Remodeled Ship Of State

The French ship of state to be engineered by Georges Pompidou will not lose its over-all Gaullist shape, but will be an extensively refurbished model of the Charles de Gaulle original.

In his winning campaign, Mr. Pompidou was lavish in his praise of Gen. De Gaulle and defended his own Gaullist record as premier.

A CLUE to his policy is found by coupling his campaign pledge to operate a more liberal and flexible government than did Gen. De Gaulle with the experts' prediction that he will quickly name Jacques Chaban-Delmas his premier.

Mr. Chaban-Delmas has been president of the National Assembly since 1952 and a loyal supporter of Gen. De Gaulle since World War II.

Even in his election victory announcement, Mr. Pompidou paid additional tribute to his former president by saying "The vote today seems to me to constitute a consolidation and even a consecration of this great reform that we owe to Gen De Gaulle."

So it would seem that the new French president will be attempting to marry the strength of the De Gaulle regime to new ideas and flexibility of the Pompidou era.

Two factors are in the favor of the new president.

His election margin of more than 57 per cent of the vote was greater than that achieved by Gen. De Gaulle in the 1965 election which can be viewed as a mandate for action.

Also, for the next four years Mr. Pompidou will be working with the Gaullist majority in the French National Assembly which he helped put into office as campaign manager for Gen. De Gaulle's team last year.

Pompidou programs should find warm support in the National Assembly.

AS A WHOLE Mr. Pompidou's views on a united Europe, an expanded Common Market and better relations with the United States seem in accord with the aspirations of Western leaders and his forthcoming policy decisions should have a good impact on the international scene.

It is to be hoped the aloofness and blind independence of the De Gaulle regime is at an end.

Rhodes' Legislative Veto

Gov. James A. Rhodes' veto of a bill permitting Ohio Highway Patrol officers to be called into local civil disorders probably will be misunderstood on two counts.

Nothing more than a cursory glance at the Governor's veto action might lead some Ohioans to believe Mr. Rhodes is opposed to use of the patrol in riot situations — which is not true.

GOV. RHODES would like to see legislation allowing patrol intervention in any civil disturbance including those arising from strikes or other labor trouble.

The governor expressed concern that should the present House bill become law "it would give fresh emphasis to the concept that the state Highway Patrol is not available under any circumstances involving a strike or labor dispute . . ."

In other words, he seeks to make the legislation more inclusive.

The other misinterpretation of the veto will come from labor which no doubt will be chastising the governor for his adamant position on including labor strife in the list of areas subject to patrol authority.

The Governor is opposed to language in the bill that prohibits sending patrolmen into labor-related trouble at state institutions. He says this poses a "real danger in the event of a strike or labor dispute at a correctional insitution or Lima State Hospital."

What the Governor is proposing in no way infringes upon labor's right to bargain with an employe even to the point of striking.

THE PATROL would be used only when laws are being broken — and even labor doesn't have the right to operate outside the law with impunity.

The governor has suggested lawmakers combine the bill expanding use of the Highway Patrol with another measure establishing a Department of Public Safety.

This method of working out the matter seems both sensible and efficient.

'I Still Say It's Just Baby Fat!'

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor Problems For Nixon

WASHINGTON — Now the hysteria can simmer down. There is no more chance that President Nixon will ever seek a wage-price freeze than there is of Hades icing over — barring a world war. That's certain, absolute and positive.

Victor Riesel

Fact is, that one of Mr. Nixon's truly weighty advisers said, soon after he heard Secretary of the Treasury David Kennedy urge wage-price controls as a possible anti-inflation weapon, "that man has foot-in-mouth disease . . . furthermore, Mr. Nixon and Paul McCracken (Chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers) have not spent 10 minutes seriously considering such ceilings since the day the Administration took office."

After conversations with White House intimates of the President, it is accurate to reflect Mr. Nixon's policy and philosophy as follows:

The President is a careful driver. He doesn't jam on the breaks while his vehicle is speeding over ice, thick or thin.

He'll do nothing dramatic or startling — and that's dramatic news in itself.

The pressure will be gradual.

MR. NIXON well knows that swift pumping of the employed into a huge pool of jobless would throw the nation's ghettos into raw brutal depression.

Unhappily, there will be more unemployment — at least another 500,000 to 600,000 by next October. But that's unavoidable. Mostly unemployment will hit white-collar people, technicians, and middle-class workers. By the end of October the total joblessness will be inching past the 3.2-million mark.

There will be an outcry. Prices will be rising. Money will still be tight. Imports will be flooding the country. "Things" will be bad — and noisy.

The opposition will have a propaganda field day. The Democrats will thunder. The liberals will assault. The intellectuals of our world will unite and fight. Labor will protest.

But by next spring — just about a year from now — the White House expects "it" will all level off. And by the end of 1970 Mr. Nixon expects the nation to be back to full prosperity under stable prices.

He does not believe there will be a recession. He is positive there'll be no depression.

As one of his aides put it, "there's nothing like gradual gradualism."

To attempt wage-price controls now would thrust Richard Nixon into the role of Britain's laborite Prime Minister Harold Wilson. Her Majesty's eloquent first minister has tried this. He finds that even the awe of the government's power can't control shop stewards, much less the unions themselves.

MR. NIXON, FOR EXAMPLE, hardly sees himself dueling with local building and construction trades business agents and local officials. Wage-price controls would force him and his Cabinet's key men into just that Quixotic posture.

In this District itself, the President can see "skyscrapers" standing gaunt and skeletonized by a carpenters' strike which started May 1. Excavation work has been paralized on the FBI's new headquarters site. The Southeast Freeway is stalled. Construction on at least seven other large buildings and one plaza is crippled. The carpenters demand a wage-benefit package of $3 an hour over the three year contract — or, on a 40-hour base, a $120 hike per week per man after the second year.

In Eastern Massachusetts brother carpenters struck for $126 increase per man per week over a two-year pact.

In Wilmington, Del., millwrights have been striking for a $228 weekly wage increase per man per week over a two-year contract (a rate which would start after the first year).

IN WYOMING, iron workers have struck for $164.80 weekly increase per man per week over a two-year compact.

And yet there are observers who've said that Mr. Nixon would not face a major strike threat until 1970 or 1971. Well, there now are 200,000 craftsmen out on strike.

That's mighty major.

Especially since the $99 billion building and construction field is the nation's largest homogeneous industry.

These demands and stoppages don't insinuate that all construction union chiefs or local leaders won't cooperate with the government or contractors. It does mean that there are some mighty tough local men in some mighty strategic positions. And they're not about to be argued out of anything.

So in addition to President Nixon's distaste for wage-price federal controls, and for the machinery for policing any such legislation, Mr. Nixon just doesn't see himself and his aides going into battle on a thousand fronts.

One White House colleage summed it all up simply with. "There's zero chance for controls, wage-price or anything like that. We're just going to continue doing what we're doing."

DAVID LAWRENCE

Supreme Court Off Base

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court of the United States has again resorted to a maze of technicalities in deciding an important case, and has ruled that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell was improperly excluded from the House of Representatives.

Stress was placed only on the argument that Mr. Powell conformed to the constitutional requirement as to age, citizenship and residency in the state from which he was elected. But there is another part of the constitution which the high court brushed aside.

ARTICLE I, Section 5, says: "Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior and, with the concurrence of two thirds, expel a member."

What is "disorderly behavior"? The high court gave little weight to the report of a committee of the House which stated that "Powell had asserted an unwarranted privilege and immunity from the processes of the courts of New York; that he had wrongfully diverted House funds for the use of others and himself; and that he had made false reports on expenditures of foreign currency to the Committee on House Administration."

THOUGH POWELL was found by the House committee to be guilty of these offenses, the Supreme Court confined irself to whether the procedures used to exclude him from his seat were proper. Yet, whether it is called "exclusion" or "explusion," the House has a constitutional right to deny a seat to a person who has been adjudged to have committed wrongdoings.

Considerable emphasis was placed by the court on the assertion that each house of representatives, elected for two years, is a separate entitly, and that the denial of membership by the 90th Congress "cannot be treated as an expulsion." It further said that the voters, merely by the election, had obtained the seat for Mr. Powell and that, though there was more than a two-thirds vote cast against him by the House of Representatives, he nevertheless was entitled to membership.

The high court dclared the House is "without authority to exclude any person, duly elected by his constituents, who meets all the requirements for membership expressly prescribed in the Constitition." The court said that it "will not speculate what the result might have been if Powell had been seated and expulsion proceedings subsequently instituted.

To the American people, the difference between "exclude" and "expel" will hardly appear to be material to the main point — namely, that Powell was adjudged by the House to be guilty of "disorderly behavior" and was not regarded as qualified for membership in Congress.

The House of Represenatives can still ask the Department of Justice to conduct proceedings with respect to the misuse of funds, and, of course, even without such action, Congress has a right to interpret for itself what is meant by "disorderly behavior" for which a member can be expelled.

The whole case would seem to be one which leaves the impression that, no matter what offense an individual has committed, he can still become a member of the House of Representatives if he is elected and is a resident of a certain state and has attained a certain age. Members of Congress can, therefore, engage in any kind of wrongdoing, but if re-elected by their states or districts, they are eligible to take their seats.

THE PUBLIC is not likely to agree that anyone guilty of the offenses listed after a special House committee investigation is entitled to a seat whether or not the offenses were committed during a preceding Congress. For the fact still remains that each House is the true judge not only of the "qualifications" of its members but whether they are guilty of any "disorderly behavior."

The main point made by the lawyers who defended the House of Reprsentatives in the case before the Supreme Court was that "the House may expel a member for any reason whatsoever and that, since a two-thirds vote was obtained, the procedure by which Powell was denied his seat in the 90th Congress should be regarded as an expuslion not an exclusion."

But the Supreme Court apparently refuses to let the House make its own rules, as the Constitution prescribes, or to take whatever steps it deems necessary to punish "disorderly behavior."

Voting Begins In Ireland In Elections

DUBLIN (AP) — The shouting stopped and the voting began today in Ireland's national elections. Observers predicted the Labor party would sap some of the ruling Fianna Fail party's strength, which could create a political crisis or a period of minority rule.

Ireland's 1.75 million voters will elect 143 of the 372 candidates running for seats in the Dail, the lower house of Parliament. The Dail's 144th member, the house speaker, is unopposed.

Voting is by proportional representation, a complicated system in which voters list the candidates in their district in order of preference. The total vote for each candidate is determined by weighing the number of votes he received as a first choice, second choice, third choice and so on. Thus, in Ireland, pre-election polls, don't work.

But officials of Prime Minister Jack Lynch's Fianne Fail Soldiers of Destiny—party privately conceded they had little hope of outright victory.

Lynch's chief issue in the campaign was that as the strongest of the three major parties, the Fianna Fail was the only one with a chance of winning a majority and providing a stable government. He used the same argument last year in trying to abolish proportional representation, but the electorate voted 60-40 to retain the system.

In the outgoing Parliament, Fianna Fail held 74 seats, the opposition Fine Gael—Irish party—46, Labor, 18, independents, 3, and three seats vacant.

Fine Gael, led mainly by lawyers, physicians and other professional men, fielded 125 candidates in its bid to take over the government for the first time in 12 years. Labor, which draws its chief support from the unions, put up 99 candidates, more than ever before, and hoped to widen its appeal with some prominent intellectuals and farm leaders on its ticket.

Man Named 'Brains' In Counterfeit Ring

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A Cleveland man, who was free on bond while appealing a conviction for trying to sell $300,000 in counterfiet money, has been named by the U.S. Secret Service as the brains behind a large counterfeiting ring.

The man, John Vasi, 57, was among five persons arrested last weekend and charged with counterfeiting in connection with a raid last March at the Hopkins Airport Motel in which the Secret Service confiscated $500,000 in bogus money.

William K. Deckard, head of the Secret Service in Cleveland, said Tuesday that more arrests are expected. This brings to 10 the number of men arrested and charged with being part of the counterfeiting ring.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I do an especially good job of washing picture frame glass?

A. — It can be washed to a sparkling cleanness with water to which a little vinegar has been added, or ammonia. Use a sponge, a chamois, or a soft cloth well wrung out. If the sponge or cloth is too wet, water might seep between the frame and glass and stain your picture. Polish with a soft, dry cloth.

Q. — How can I add gloss to my bathroom tile floor.?

A. — By adding a half-cup of starch to your washing water.

Code Of Ethics For Justices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren will leave the Supreme Court with a major goal unaccomplished: Having the justices bind themselves to a code of ethics.

With a bit of grumbling, the U.S. Judicial Conference adopted at Warren's behest earlier this month rules requiring federal judges to forsake off-bench compensation and to file annual financial statements.

This code, a byproduct of Abe Fortas' resignation from the court, does not apply to the justices.

A statement issued by the court Tuesday said the chief justice had suggested "the propriety of the justices taking similar action" at a conference last Friday.

But, the statement added, the subject was put off until next term by decision of "a majority." The statement did not say how Warren and his eight associates lined up.

The Court's final public session under Warren is Monday. Warren E. Burger will be sworn in to succeed him and the Warren Court will pass into history.

The resignation of Fortas after accepting the first $20,000 payment of a lifetime fee from the Wolfson Family Foundation cast a shadow over the Court. Warren was known to have wanted the judiciary to clean house before he left—and before congressional pressures boiled over into extra-stiff legislation.

However, the statement said "some of the justices"—it did not say which ones—urged that no action be taken now because the term is almost over, a new chief justice is joining the court and a replacement for Fortas is to be named.

This does not preclude the justices from making independent decisions to pass up nonjudicial jobs and to file financial reports.

Justice William J. Brennan Jr., it was learned recently, has canceled speeches, sold stock bequeathed by his mother and given up his interest in a real estate venture in which Fortas participated.

And with the Tuesday comment was one from Justice Thurgood Marshall saying he had decided to abide by the Judicial Conference's resolutions —except that he will file his report with his colleagues.

A 63-year-old Chester man was shaken up, but apparently not hurt seriously, in a two-way collision Tuesday at 7:13 p.m. on W. 5th St. 20 feet west of Market St., police reported.

The collision involved a 1967 sedan driven by Clarence E. Moore, 63, of 350 Carolina Ave., Chester, and a 1964 sedan operated by Kenneth A. White 29, of 9th Ave., LaCroft. Moore was treated and released at the hospital for nervousness, police said.

Both autos were westbound on the one - way stretch. Moore said his auto was in the right-hand lane and as he approached the intersection of Market St. another auto pulled from a parking spot. Moore said he swerved to the left, causing his auto to hit the White car, which was in the left - hand lane.

White told officers he was in the left-hand lane, following Moore. He said Moore pulled from the left lane into the right lane. White said Moore then swung back into the left-hand lane, hitting White's car in the right side.

The driver of the car pulling from the curb was identified as James Zanos of Pittsburgh. His car was undamaged.

A local man was cited on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way in a mishap on Lincoln Ave. at St. Clair Ave. Tuesday at 3:25 p. m

Officers cited Harley E. Reed, 52, of Pond St. following a collision between his 1958 four-door sedan and a 1966 coupe driven by Barbara A. Horner, 22, of Oakmont.

The young woman told officers she had halted for a red traffic light on Broadway. As it turned green, she started across the intersection to Lincoln Ave. and Reed made a left turn, striking her auto, she said. Reed told officers he was headed south on Lincoln Ave. and intending to turn north on St. Clair. Skid marks indicated both cars were traveling slowly, officers said.

A skidding auto struck a utility pole Tuesday at 2:45 p. m. on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." officers said.

The pole was bumped by a 1965 two - door hardtop driven by Steven Conkle, 17, of 1835 Dakota Ave. There was damage to the left rear fender of the auto, registered to William Conkle of the same address.

The youth told officers his car stalled as he halted after pulling off Ravine St. toward Pennsylvania Ave. When the motor started again, he stepped on the accelerator, causing the auto to slide on loose gravel and hit the pole, he said.

Bill Goes To House

Pennsylvania Senate OKs Transportation Proposal

HARRISBURG (AP) — A Shafer administration proposal calling for creation of a Department of Transportation in state government has cleared its first legislative hurdle.

The Senate passed the enabling bill Tuesday and sent the measure to the House. The vote was 33-16 with nine of the opponents coming from Gov. Shafer's Republican Party.

In other key action, the Senate approved a $7 million deficiency appropriation to meet increased public assistance costs in the remaining two weeks of the fiscal year.

THE HOUSE occupied time with amendment writing, inserting significant changes into a labor - backed public employe bill and another measure dealing with curbs on movies.

The proposed new Department of Transportation, nicknamed PennDOT, would replace the present Department of Highways, but assume responsibilities far beyond road building.

PennDOT would take over motor vehicle and operator licensing and traffic safety from Revenue and mass transit programs from Community Affairs, in addition to other functions.

The deficiency appropriation for Welfare passed, 40-2, after minority Democrats tried unsucessfully to incease the outlay to $33 million.

DEMOCRATS maintained that $33 million was the actual need, but that the administration planned to borrow $26 million from next - year's budget to avoid a deficit this year.

The House voted 107-87 in favor of an amendment that would exempt teachers from a bill to grant public employes the right of collective bargaining.

The vote was a victory for the Pennsylvania State Education Association, which believes teachers should be handled by separate legislation, and a defeat for the Pennsylvania AFL-CIO.

Minority Republicans, getting some support from dissident Democrats, pushed the amendment, which may have dealt a death blow to the bill itself.

Lawmakers on both sides of the aisle, voicing displeasure with the labor bill, said they would propose alternative legislation that would go much further.

REP. Gerald Kaufman, D-Allegheny, planned to introduce a bill that in addition to granting public employe bargaining rights would also give them the limited right to strike.

Rep. Fred Taylor, D-Fayette, offered the second House amendment to a bill that would prohibit the showing of previews of adult - only movies between features billed as family entertainment.

Taylor's amendment sought to spell out the types of films that could not be shown to persons 18 years or younger. He said he was concerned with the growing emphasis of sex in films.

"We are making sex a national spectator sport," Taylor said in a lively floor speech. "Sex is actually a participation sport."

The bill's chief sponsor, Rep. James J. Gallen, R-Berks, opposed the amendment. Gallen said the amendment was aimed against pornography, whereas his bill was aimed at false advertising.

'Head Start' Officials Urge 2 New Year-Round Centers

LISBON — "Head Start" leaders discussed the pre-school training program Tuesday night during the monthly meeting of the Community Action Agency of Columbiana County, Inc., at the welfare department conference room.

They said there is a need for two more year-round centers like the three now operating—two in East Liverpool and one in Wellsville.

The two - month summer centers now operating should be continued, they said, because they reach youngsters in rural areas.

The discussions were led by Miss Ann Johnston of East Liverpool, "Head Start" director, and Lionel Smith of Salem, CAA director.

They said the summer program at nine centers costs $21,000 and reaches 135 children, while the nine-month program in East Liverpool and Wellsville costs $81,000 and reaches 45 children.

An application will be made for funds to operate five year-round centers.

Alonzo Spencer of East Liverpool, chairman of the board, presided. Daniel Butch of Leetonia, CAA treasurer, presented an extensive report of the various funds.

Smith said that Mark Eyerman, VISTA planner with the county CAA the past year, is now employed in the Great Lakes office of the Office of Economic Opportunity at Chicago and will be there until September when he plans to begin graduate study.

The CAA took under consideration an appeal for help with a day care center Wellsville residents have opened at 11th and Center Sts.

Smith, Spencer, Robert Skinner of East Liverpool and John K. Douglas of Salineville were elected to attend a CAA workshop June 27-29 at Akron.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Approximately 1,400 machinists struck the General Electric Co. here shortly before midnight Tuesday in a dispute over what they called "unresolved grievances."

Picketlines were set up at the gates of the huge plant in suburban Evendale. It was not immediately known whether other employes reporting on later shifts would honor them.

About 15,000 persons are employed at the plant.

The orderly walkout began about 11:30 p. m.

A spokesman for the workers, members of International Association of Machinists Lodge 912, said the decision to strike came Tuesday morning after company officials refused to submit certain grievances to arbitration.

Neither the company nor worker representatives disclosed specific grievances that precipitated the walkout.

SICKROOM FLOWERS OR PLANTS ARE NOT HARMFUL

It is not true that flowers or plants in their rooms can harm sick persons. Medical authorities agree that they could not possibly use up enough oxygen, or give up sufficient carbon dioxide to harm the occupant.

It is true that some people, not too many, are allergic to some of the exotic odors of certain flowers, especially lilies or roses. Also, in crowded wards there is little space available for them. Some understaffed hospitals do not have the labor to take care of flowers.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Lois Ann Carter Is Wed To Robert E. Charleton

Miss Lois Ann Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Carter of 608 Garner Ave., chose June 6, the 22nd wedding anniversary of her parents, for her marriage to Robert Edward Charleton Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Charleton of Penn Hills, Pittsburgh, former city residents.

The Rev. Paul Randall officiated for the double-ring ceremony at the Emmanuel United Presbyterian Church.

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a dress of white lace over taffeta designed with a high neckline and long sleeves. Her shoulder - length veil of illusion was held in place by a large organza rose.

She carried a Colonial bouquet of white chrysanthemums and daisies tied with lace streamers. In observing the traditions, she borrowed a gold necklace from her grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Carter, and carried a sixpence in her shoe, sent from England by an aunt, Mrs. James Warren.

Miss Janice Carter, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of pink organza appliqued with white flowers. Her headpiece was a matching organza rose and veil. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white chrysanthemums, pink daisies and rosebuds tied with pink streamers.

Larry Carter, brother of the bride, served as best man. Another brother, James Carter, was an usher.

A RECEPTION for 35 followed at the home of the bride's parents. The buffet table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a two-tier cake topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Following a honeymoon in Washington, D. C., the newlyweds are residing in Columbiana. The bride was graduated in 1969 from East Liverpool High School. Her husband, a 1968 graduate of Beaver Local High School, attends Youngstown State University. He is employed at Kaiser Refractories in Columbiana.

Board To List Names For 3 City Positions

The Municipal Civil Service Commission said today it will certify list to the administration soon for appointment of men to two vacancies on the fire department and one post on the police department.

The commission conducted examinations Monday night and Tuesday night at City Hall to draw up eligibility lists for the two departments. Four men passed the police department test, raising the eligibility list to seven, and one man attained a passing score in the fire department test, boosting the eligibility list to four. In several cases, the same man won places on both lists.

Floyd F. Galloway of 301 Dewey Ave. Ext.; David K. English of 206 Pennsylvania Ave.; Edward Daniel Pack of 1235 Pennsylvania Ave.; Thomas Lee Edgell of 3184 Andrews St.; Ronald Keith Roach of 819 Bank St.; William H. Carnegie of MC 22, LaCroft, and David Bruce Kidder of MC 21, Macrum St.

Pack, Edgell, Roach and Kidder passed the Monday night test. Galloway, English, and Carnegie had passed the exam previously.

In both exams, the names of the men who scored passing grades were interpolated into the existing lists, as provided by state law, the commission said. The law provides that all the names will be placed on a single list, ranked according to grades.

The fire department list, in the order in which the men are ranked, follows:

Thomas Lee Edgell, of 3184 Andrews St.; James D. Culp of 1350 Oakwood Ave.; David B. Kidder of MC 21, Macrum St., and William J. Massey of 218 W. 4th St.

Kidder was the only applicant to score a passing grade Tuesday night. The others had passed the test prveiously.

After the successful applicants have passed physical examinations, the certified lists will be turned over to Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

New firemen and police are paid $461 monthly for the first six months and then advance to $504.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I improvise a good stylus for use on a mimeograph stencil?

A. — A discarded ballpoint pen, one that has gone dry, does an excellent job . . . in fact, it isn't so apt to dig into and tear the stencil as sometimes a genuine stylus will do.

Voting Begins In Ireland In Elections

DUBLIN (AP) — The shouting stopped and the voting began today in Ireland's national elections. Observers predicted the Labor party would sap some of the ruling Fianna Fail party's strength, which could create a political crisis or a period of minority rule.

Ireland's 1.75 million voters will elect 143 of the 372 candidates running for seats in the Dail, the lower house of Parliament. The Dail's 144th member, the house speaker, is unopposed.

Voting is by proportional representation, a complicated system in which voters list the candidates in their district in order of preference. The total vote for each candidate is determined by weighing the number of votes he received as a first choice, second choice, third choice and so on. Thus, in Ireland, pre-election polls, don't work.

But officials of Prime Minister Jack Lynch's Fianna Fail Soldiers of Destiny—party privately conceded they had little hope of outright victory.

Lynch's chief issue in the campaign was that as the strongest of the three major parties, the Fianna Fail was the only one with a chance of winning a majority and providing a stable government. He used the same argument last year in trying to abolish proportional representation, but the electorate voted 60-40 to retain the system.

In the outgoing Parliament, Fianna Fail held 74 seats, the opposition Fine Gael—Irish party—46, Labor, 18, independents, 3, and three seats vacant.

Fine Gael, led mainly by lawyers, physicians and other professional men, fielded 125 candidates in its bid to take over the government for the first time in 12 years. Labor, which draws its chief support from the unions, put up 99 candidates, more than ever before, and hoped to widen its appeal with some prominent intellectuals and farm leaders on its ticket.

Chicago has been chosen as the national convention site for U.S. political parties more times than any other city in he 20th century, with Philadelphia second.

Man Named 'Brains' In Counterfeit Ring

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A Cleveland man, who was free on bond while appealing a conviction for trying to sell $300,000 in counterfiet money, has been named by the U.S. Secret Service as the brains behind a large counterfeiting ring.

The man, John Vasi, 57, was among five persons arrested last weekend and charged with counterfeiting in connection with a raid last March at the Hopkins Airport Motel in which the Secret Service confiscated $500,000 in bogus money.

William K. Deckard, head of the Secret Service in Cleveland, said Tuesday that more arrests are expected. This brings to 10 the number of men arrested and charged with being part of the counterfeiting ring.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I do an especially good job of washing picture frame glass?

A. — It can be washed to a sparkling cleanness with water to which a little vinegar has been added, or ammonia. Use a sponge, a chamois, or a soft cloth well wrung out. If the sponge or cloth is too wet, water might seep between the frame and glass and stain your picture. Polish with a soft, dry cloth.

Q. — How can I add gloss to my bathroom tile floor.?

A. — By adding a half-cup of starch to your washing water.

In it, she said, "he had some of the Black Panthers' shiny black suits, an African shirt, and two black sweaters; also a sheath knife with a six-inch blade."

Nan Schwager, a stewardess making her final run before going home to St. Paul, Minn., for her marriage next week, said the hijack began when the man showed her a gun and politely ordered her to have the plane diverted to Cuba.

Capt. George Behnke opened the door of the cockpit and allowed the man to enter. He remained in the cockpit for the three-hour flight, at times donning a crewman's earphones to listen to radio conversations with ground control points and twice ordering coffee brought in by a stewardess.

It was the 27th hijacking of a commercial airliner this year.

Sheriff Files Answer For Vote Appeal

Hancock County Sheriff Ralph Patrick Monday answered an appeal filed last week by Lou Smoleski in Hancock County Court contesting the election that named Patrick to his post.

Patrick cited 11 points in asking that the appeal be dismissed. He alleges the county commissioners committed a number of errors in admitting certain ballots, contending they were illegal because they were not signed by the proper poll clerks.

Patrick asks that all ballots in Precincts 25, 26 and 38 and some from several other precincts be rejected.

In his answer, he stated that the commissioners allegedly erred in counting votes in certain precincts. They are Precinct 1, one vote more than names on poll slips; Precinct 4, an apparent obliteration of selection marking; Precinct 21, obliteration of clerk's signature on six ballots; Precinct 23, one more vote than names in poll book; Precinct 24, eight of the ballots were from another district, and Precinct 29, one vote has markings for straight ticket on all three parties.

Frank Como of the law firm of Pinsky, Mahan, Barnes and Watson of Weirton is legal counsel for Patrick.

The court has not set a date for the hearing on Smoleski's appeal.

Board To List Names For 3 City Positions

The Municipal Civil Service Commission said today it will certify list to the administration soon for appointment of men to two vacancies on the fire department and one post on the police department.

The commission conducted examinations Monday night and Tuesday night at City Hall to draw up eligibility lists for the two departments. Four men passed the police department test, raising the eligibility list to seven, and one man attained a passing score in the fire department test, boosting the eligibility list to four. In several cases, the same man won places on both lists.

Floyd F. Galloway of 301 Dewey Ave. Ext.; David K. English of 206 Pennsylvania Ave.; Edward Daniel Pack of 1235 Pennsylvania Ave.; Thomas Lee Edgell of 3184 Andrews St.; Ronald Keith Roach of 819 Bank St.; William H. Carnegie of MC 22, LaCroft, and David Bruce Kidder of MC 21, Macrum St.

Pack, Edgell, Roach and Kidder passed the Monday night test. Galloway, English, and Carnegie had passed the exam previously.

In both exams, the names of the men who scored passing grades were interpolated into the existing lists, as provided by state law, the commission said. The law provides that all the names will be placed on a single list, ranked according to grades.

The fire department list, in the order in which the men are ranked, follows:

Thomas Lee Edgell, of 3184 Andrews St.; James D. Culp of 1350 Oakwood Ave.; David B. Kidder of MC 21, Macrum St., and William J. Massey of 218 W. 4th St.

Kidder was the only applicant to score a passing grade Tuesday night. The others had passed the test prveiously.

After the successful applicants have passed physical examinations, the certified lists will be turned over to Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

New firemen and police are paid $461 monthly for the first six months and then advance to $504.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I improvise a good stylus for use on a mimeograph stencil?

A. — A discarded ballpoint pen, one that has gone dry, does an excellent job . . . in fact, it isn't so apt to dig into and tear the stencil as sometimes a genuine stylus will do.

Air Force Efficiency Expert Cites C5A For His Demotion

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Air Force efficiency expert who says he was demoted to cost overseer of a GI bowling alley after pointing out a $2 billion overrun on the C5A transport plane claims the military subjects cost-control experts to "isolation, neutralization or removal from the acquisition business."

A. Ernest Fitzgerald told a joint congressional economic subcommittee Tuesday he landed in the Pentagon dog house last year when he alerted Congress to the projected cost increase for the giant plane.

He said he was removed from his cost control duties on major weapons contracts and told to "review minor construction problems in Thailand that included cost increases for a 20-lane bowling alley."

Fitzgerald also told the congressmen of another civilian Air Force employe who he said uncovered a $229 million, willful underestimation of a major weapons system.

"He was isolated, effectively removed from supervision of this activity and given minor responsibilities," Fitzgerald said of the unnamed official in the Air Force Systems Command.

The cost analyst landed "in deep trouble" after he went outside normal channels to tell top Pentagon officials they had been sold a bill of goods on the Mark II electronics and navigation system for the F111 fighter-bomber, Fitzgerald said.

Air Force officers said the program would cost $712 million when they knew the correct figure was $941 million, he said.

"The program was approved on the basis of an estimate that was knowingly reduced," Fitzgerald said. "The Air Force was forced to admit its mistake but the program was approveed and spending was under way already."

Fitzgerald said after his own demotion Air Force officers then wrested the entire contract review and cost-control program from civilian hands.

"I think the over-all climate and the level of opposition to cost-reducing measures, reinforced by occasional examples of personal disaster visited on economy proponents, it is not surprising that most working level government acquisition managers shy away from tough cost control actions," Fitzgerald said.

Chertoff Named As Chairman For Ohio Judge Unit

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff was appointed Tuesday as chairman of the public relations committee in charge of publications of the Ohio State Municipal Judges Association

The appointment was made during a meeting of the association's executive committee at Strongsville.

Chertoff will be in charge of editing and printing of the association's publication, which is mailed six times a year to the 143 members.

Salineville Boy Cited In Car-Truck Crash

SALINEVILLE — A Salineville youth was cited to Juvenile Court on charges of driving left of the center following a car-truck collision here Tuesday.

Jody Kim Needham, 16, of Lincoln St. was cited following a collision between his 1969 model car and a large stake - bed truck operated by Donald E. Hole of Kensington RD 1. Gordon Sweeney, chief of police, said Needham was traveling west on county Route 644 and swung left of center on a curve, striking the west bound truck. Light damage resulted to the left front fenders of both vehicles, Sweeney said.

election results, commenting: "We hope we do not have here another Los Angeles or Minneapolis."

Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles won re-election over Negro Councilman Thomas Bradley after a campaign which stressed the "law and order" issue.

In a mayoral election in Minneapolis last week, former police Detective Charles Stenvig defeated liberal Republican Dan Cohen. Stenvig had focused his campaign on the "law and order" issue.

The GOP defeat was a severe blow to the party prestige of Lindsay, who last year was considered a possible contender for the national ticket.

However, it did not knock the 47-year-old mayor out of contention for re-election to a second term in November. In a city that is 7-2 Democratic in voter registration, he will be the most liberal candidate in the three-man field.

Marchi, also 47, is the son of an Italian sculptor who came to New York to build movie sets and became a wax fruit manufacturer.

A soft-spoken man, Marchi has been in the state legislature since 1956 and has a strong civil rights record.

Marchi said he had been nominated by "a clear majority" of Republicans. He said he welcomed the support of all parties.

Procaccino, 59, is the son of an Italian shoemaker who moved to New York and set up shop in Harlem. The son went to City College and Fordham Law School, and rose through the ranks in city service.

Wagner appointed Procaccino a city judge shortly before he was elected comptroller in 1965. His main campaign theme was "safety in the streets," but he rejected complaints by Wagner and Badillo that he was appealing to racial bigotry. He called himself a moderate with liberal leanings and said he didn't want the backlash vote.

Vietnam

satchel charges and rocket-propelled grenades attacked a night base camp of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division in War Zone C, 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

That battle too raged for several hours before American artillery and helicopter gunships drove back the enemy.

Thirty-seven North Vietnamese soldiers and Three Americans were reported killed in the fight, and 16 Americans were wounded.

Twenty-four miles to the northeast, South Vietnamese civilian irregulars led by an American tank column fought a 3½-hour battle with North Vietnamese troops in a rubber plantation shortly after daylight. The allied force, backed by American bombers and helicopter gunships, reported killing 31 North Vietnamese.

One South Vietnamese irregular was killed and six irregulars and one American wounded, military spokesmen said.

The B52 bombers marked their anniversary with 10 missions against North Vietnamese bases and troop concentrations near the Laotian and Cambodian borders. The strikes ranged from 51 miles northwest of Saigon to 281 miles northeast of the capital.

Four years ago today, 30 of the eight-jet Stratofortresses flew 2,400 miles from Guam and entered the war by pounding Viet Cong troop concentrations 30 miles north of Saigon.

Since those first raids, the B52s have dropped more than one million tons of bombs on North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces and bases ranging from the Mekong Delta in South Vietnam to North Vietnam's southern panhandle.

Use of the big bombers in a guerrilla war in jungles has drawn some sharp criticism.

Criss Slated To Testify

Driver's Statement Read In Trial On Manslaughter

LISBON — A statement made to an Ohio Highway Patrol officer after a two-car crash Feb. 6 north of town was read into the record of a traffic manslaughter trial Tuesday in Common Pleas Court.

James T. Criss Jr., 23, of 220 Lee Ave., Lisbon, is expected to testify today about the collision which fatally injured his friend and passenger, Charles T. Hutcheson, 23, formerly of Grant St.

The victim died Feb. 10 in Youngstown South Side Hospital. Dr. Nathan D. Belinkey, deputy coroner of Mahoning County, testified yesterday that death was caused by lung congestion. Young Hutchseon received a fractured elbow, leg and pelvis.

Cpl. John R. Lundquist of Highway Patrol Post 15 at Lisbon read the statement Criss gave him. The officer said he advised the driver of his constitutional rights before permitting him to talk.

ADMITTED over the objection of defense counsel William Brown, the statement read:

"I was going south on Route 45 about 60 miles per hour. A car appeared ahead of me. I don't know where he came from. I remember just seeing the rear of the car. He was in my lane heading south. I put on my brakes and my car started sliding sideways and I slid into the left lane and hit a car coming the other way."

Mrs. Rose Chestnut of Lisbon RD 4, driver of the northbound car, said she saw two cars come over the hillcrest ahead of her, one in each lane. She said the car in her lane slid sideways and hit her auto broadside.

O. Dail Mason of Lisbon RD 5 testified he was southbound, heard tires squealing and looked in his rearview mirror to see another southbound car skid by him and strike the northbound sedan. The accident occurred about 12:50 p.m.

BROWN based his objection to the introduction of the statement on grounds that Criss, when he made it, thought Hutcheson was going to be all right and had no idea the statement would be used against him in a manslaughter trial.

Cpl. Lundquist testified that Hutcheson was sitting on an embankment by the road waiting for the ambulance. He said he told Criss that Hutcheson did not appear to be hurt too badly but he said he added, "but I am not a doctor."

The defense side of the case began this morning with the testimony of Miss Connie Claus, 22, of Woodland Ave., Salem, a licensed practical nurse at Salem City Hospital.

She said she was a friend of the Hutchesons and was with the victim for all except about 24 hours of the four days he was in South Side Hospital.

She said she noticed his condition deteriorating Saturday and Sunday, the day before his death, and advised the nurses and doctors. In response to Brown's question, she said she had an opinion about the medical treatment given Hutcheson but, when Brown asked her to state her opinion, Judge Raymond S. Buzzard sustained the objection of Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis.

MISS CLAUS said she volunteered her information to Brown and was testifying voluntarily "just to help somebody out." She said she is a friend of the defendant.

State Highway Patrolmen Norman Carroll and John Van Horne testified concerning skid and tire marks left by the two cars in the crash.

Carroll said the Criss car left approximately 175 feet of skid marks in the southbound lane and 75 feet of tiremarks as it slid in the northbound lane. Mrs. Chestnut's car left 33 feet of skidmarks, all in the northbound lane. Mrs. Chestnut, who was injured, estimated her speed at about 35 miles per hour.

Cpl. Lundquist testified the posted speed at the scene is 45 miles per hour. He said Criss was seated with him in the cruiser and when he saw the wrecker come for his car remarked he was sorry to see it being wrecked because "it was the fastest car in Lisbon."

"He told me he had been in a drag race the night before down on Route 164 and had cleaned everyone," the officer related.

Criss took the stand next and testified he was not drag racing the night before as the officer quoted him as saying. Criss said his sister was driving the car and he was along "as an observer."

fact, we haven't yet found a dead duck," he said.

"But a young duck would be doomed if coated. Even a thin film could suffocate fish, and the loss of insect and other food sources could be tremendous."

Houghland Towing Co. of Paducah, Ky., operator of the barge, was charged by Everson with violating state pollution statutes. The pilot, George Stroube of Godfrey, Ill., was charged with careless operation of a tow.

Driver Fined, Jailed

LISBON — Ray A. Menking, 54, of Youngstown was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in village jail Tuesday night when Mayor Clyde B. Pike found him guilty of a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Menking was cited Monday night by village police. He pleaded "no contest."

Tied To Surtax Extension

Administration Holds Up Voting Rights Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration is reported holding up proposed new voting rights legislation backed by Southerners for fear it will lose support among Northern congressmen for extending the income surtax.

For the fifth time in the last six weeks Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell has canceled an appearance before the House Judiciary Committte at which he was to give the administration's position on voting rights.

Mitchell gave no explanation when he asked the committee to cancel the meeting scheduled for today. But sources in and out of Capitol Hill said the postponement was requested to avoid antagonizing members whose votes will be needed to pass the surtax extension bill next week.

The voting bill the administration is backing would scrap the 1965 Voting Rights Act, a measure with broad bipartisan support that has led to dramatic gains by black voters in the seven Southern states where it is in effect.

The 1965 act would be replaced by a new law designed to deal with voter discrimination and fraud in all states. Supporters of the 1965 act feel the new proposal would be less effective in the South and that it is unnecessary in the other states.

For the past six weeks Northern Republicans who support the 1965 act have been trying to prevent the administration from abandoning it. They gained new power Tuesday when the House Ways and Means Committee approved the surtax extension requested by President Nixon as an urgently needed weapon against inflation.

The surtax faces heavy opposition anyway, and the danger of alienating any potential supporters by coming out for a voting bill unpopular with civil rights supporters apparently weighed heavily with the administration.

The Republicans favoring the 1965 act plan to use the new delay to continue their efforts to get the administration to support its continuance.

They hope that as a compromise Atty. Gen. Mitchell would agree to a three or five-year extension of the present law while a commission studied the problem of Negro voting to see if new legislation might be needed after that.

Ashtabula Girl Elected Buckeye State Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Federalist party lost the governor's seat but managed to win four of the top six state offices in the general election at Buckeye Girls State here Tuesday night.

The only other Nationalist to win a state office was Marlene Woo-Lun, 17, Columbus, who defeated Federalist Peggy Louise Conrad of Fairfield to become secretary of state.

Ohio Supreme Court Justice C. William O'Neill will administer the oath of office to the state office holders Wednesday night.

In the other races:

Federalist Christine Bobbey, 17, of Newton Falls defeated Nationalist Patricia Diana Funk of Cuyahoga Falls for lieutenant governor.

Debbie Carter, 16, of Ironton, was elected attorney general over Nationalist Connie Redwine 17, of Cincinnati.

Buckeye Boys' State Assembly Considers Bills

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — The Buckeye Boys State legislature plowed through several bills Tuesday as it raced for adjournment Thursday night.

A Senate amended bill calling for a voting age of 19 in Ohio was sent back to the House, which hoped to approve it in time for Buckeye Boys State citizens to vote on the resolution.

The Senate faced 20 bills which had been submitted by Gov. Stan P. Silverstein, 17, of Findlay, following his State of the State address to a joint session of the legislature Tuesday morning.

In it, she said, "he had some of the Black Panthers' shiny black suits, an African shirt, and two black sweaters; also a sheath knife with a six-inch blade."

Nan Schwager, a stewardess making her final run before going home to St. Paul, Minn., for her marriage next week, said the hijack began when the man showed her a gun and politely ordered her to have the plane diverted to Cuba.

Capt. George Behnke opened the door of the cockpit and allowed the man to enter. He remained in the cockpit for the three-hour flight, at times donning a crewman's earphones to listen to radio conversations with ground control points and twice ordering coffee brought in by a stewardess.

It was the 27th hijacking of a commercial airliner this year.

Sheriff Files Answer For Vote Appeal

Hancock County Sheriff Ralph Patrick Monday answered an appeal filed last week by Lou Smoleski in Hancock County Court contesting the election that named Patrick to his post.

Patrick cited 11 points in asking that the appeal be dismissed. He alleges the county commissioners committed a number of errors in admitting certain ballots, contending they were illegal because they were not signed by the proper poll clerks.

Patrick asks that all ballots in Precincts 25, 26 and 38 and some from several other precincts be rejected.

In his answer, he stated that the commissioners allegedly erred in counting votes in certain precincts. They are Precinct 1, one vote more than names on poll slips; Precinct 4, an apparent obliteration of selection marking; Precinct 21, obliteration of clerk's signature on six ballots; Precinct 23, one more vote than names in poll book; Precinct 24, eight of the ballots were from another district, and Precinct 29, one vote has markings for straight ticket on all three parties.

Frank Como of the law firm of Pinsky, Mahan, Barnes and Watson of Weirton is legal counsel for Patrick.

The court has not set a date for the hearing on Smoleski's appeal.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Tacks Hold Your Skirts

DEAR HELOISE: Short of skirt hangers:

Heloise

Just take a plain wooden one and push a thumbtack three-quarters of the way down near each end of the hanger to hook the skirt loops on. It can be spray painted if desired.

Margueruite Nelson.

And you're just as sharp as that tack, too, for thinking of this clever trick. Thanks heaps. HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: "HELP!" I'm being held prisoner by a messy, disorganized house and four messy, disorganized kids.

I would certainly throw in the towel this morning — if I could find a clean one, that is. FRUSTRATED.

DEAR HELOISE: Why don't measuring dents in cake pans measuring dents in ckae pans — like the ones in measuring cups?

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a very simple trick that saves tempers:

When folding documents, business letters, operating instructions or any other standard-size paper, try folding it with the writing on the outside. This provides instant identification when searching through desk or drawer for that misplaced paper. You don't waste time folding and refolding everything you come across.

MRS. B. BENDEZI.

DEAR HELOISE: To assemble a jigsaw puzzle, I get a grocery carton and cut two pieces from it about four inches larger than the finished size of the puzzle. Next I cut the center out of one piece to the exact size of the puzzle and glue the two pieces together.

Then I start assembling the puzzle inside the opening.

ALEX KUHARIC.

DEAR HELOISE: In the summer we keep our TV trays on the patio.

A plastic drycleaner's bag fits over them with a clothespin at the bottom to keep the wind from blowing it off.

MRS. A. READEN.

DEAR HELOISE: When we expect company for dinner, I fill the ice tea glasses with ice at my convenience and put them into the freezer.

Then during the hectic time when I'm trying to get the food on the table, hot things hot and cold things cold, I don't have to stop and mess with ice trays. Besides, glasses are chilled and the tea gets icy quicker.

MRS. MIDDLETON.

DEAR HELOISE: I don't know what you think about children who call their mother "mummy."

Personally I hate it.

Have you ever seen a mummy: Each day that I look in the mirror after ironing, cleaning, and listening to screaming kids, I wonder if they aren't telling the truth after all?

But who wants to be reminded of it?

MOTHER.

It is supposed that the modern town of Hissarlik, Turkey, is the site of Ilium, known as Troy in ancientt imes.

Ohio Education Bill Slated Out Of Committee

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An education bill which would cost almost $61.8 million over the next two years if it is fully financed was expected to come out of the House Education Committee tonight.

The financing segment is contained in a separate bill.

The big items in the education bill include regional service centers, vocational education, aid to nonpublic schools and subsidies to students of the medical college at Case Western Reserve University.

The bill does not contain the major state aid to schools—the money that goes into the State Foundation Formula.

If fully financed, the following amounts would be spent over the next two years: Centers, $3.4 million; vocational education, $23.7 million; nonpublic schools, $33.8 million and subsidies, $870,000.

Up until Tuesday night, the subsidies for medical students would have cost $3.5 million. But the committee approved a Democratic amendment requiring that only students from Ohio would be eligible for the subsidies.

At present about 76 per cent of the university's medical students come from out of state.

Black Panther Dropouts Called

Possible Links Between Black Power, Riots Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two dropouts from the Black Panthers were called to Capitol Hill today by Senate investigators looking for possible links between the militant black power group and campus and urban violence.

As was the case in the first two days of hearings, the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations, chaired by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., declined to reveal in advance the names of the witnesses called to testify on the leadership and plans of the Black Panthers.

The panel's previous hearings were devoted to the radical Students for a Democratic Society, which has also come under new attack by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover for allegedly following a Communist blueprint to disrupt war production.

Hoover, writing in a labor union newspaper, said the summer "work-in" manual issued by SDS is actually a document originally drafted by pro-Red Chinese American Communists.

Hoover's charges against SDS are being published in the weekly newspaper of the million-member AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists.

The Associated Press last month described the "work-in" manual in detail, including plans to persuade workers to stop war production.

"Closing down our schools is not enough," the SDS instructions said. "Workers produce and move the goods that are used in the war and it is they who are primarily forced to fight the war. They can stop it."

In writing to the Machinists, Hoover said SDS wants to convince workers "that this country is 'rotten,' 'sick,' and 'diseased,' and therefore should be destroyed.

"The SDS has no respect for unions and their efforts to protect the workers and work for the best interests of their country. To the SDS, unions are part of the 'Establishment,' and should be destroyed along with the government, the military, private industry and law enforcement," the FBI chief said.

More testimony about alleged Communist involvement in the SDS came Tuesday from a detective chief and a police infiltrator who appeared before the Senate subcommittee.

Capt. Daniel C. Myre of the Michigan State Police detectives identified numerous SDS leaders as self-avowed Communists who advocated revolution in the United States.

The people of this nation must decide, he said, whether persons who openly identify themselves as sympathetic to the Communist philosophy, who conspire to infiltrate the labor force and education system and who intimidate military recruiters are a threat to this country.

If not, said Myre, then so be it. But if they decide a threat exists:

"It may be incumbent upon them to react en masse and in so doing develop such a tremendous surge of antirevolution public opinion as to completely destroy and immediately smother such subversive and revolutionary forces . . ."

McClellan said he agreed.

"Your evidence and the other evidence I know of indicates it is a threat to our security," he said.

Lawrence I. Kihnel Jr., a detective on the Jefferson Parish, La., sheriff's department, said he infiltrated a branch of the SDS for seven months last year.

Kihnel, who said his undercover role was disclosed and he was stabbed in the stomach on leaving an SDS meeting, testified the organization is a Communist outfit dedicated to overthrow of the government.

"I'm not saying all SDS members are Communists," Kihnel said, "except 90 per cent of those on the board admit they are Communists. Those leaders are elected in a very democratic way and they know they are electing Communists to represent themselves."

Innocent Plea Given In Ohio Murder Case

Dr. Jane Shutt, 43, was shot four times with a .25 caliber pistol and beaten with a poker in her home May 25.

Air Force Efficiency Expert Cites C5A For His Demotion

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Air Force efficiency expert who says he was demoted to cost overseer of a GI bowling alley after pointing out a $2 billion overrun on the C5A transport plane claims the military subjects cost-control experts to "isolation, neutralization or removal from the acquisition business."

A. Ernest Fitzgerald told a joint congressional economic subcommittee Tuesday he landed in the Pentagon dog house last year when he alerted Congress to the projected cost increase for the giant plane.

He said he was removed from his cost control duties on major weapons contracts and told to "review minor construction problems in Thailand that included cost increases for a 20-lane bowling alley."

Fitzgerald also told the congressmen of another civilian Air Force employe who he said uncovered a $229 million, willful underestimation of a major weapons system.

"He was isolated, effectively removed from supervision of this activity and given minor responsibilities," Fitzgerald said of the unnamed official in the Air Force Systems Command.

The cost analyst landed "in deep trouble" after he went outside normal channels to tell top Pentagon officials they had been sold a bill of goods on the Mark II electronics and navigation system for the F111 fighter-bomber, Fitzgerald said.

Air Force officers said the program would cost $712 million when they knew the correct figure was $941 million, he said.

"The program was approved on the basis of an estimate that was knowingly reduced," Fitzgerald said. "The Air Force was forced to admit its mistake but the program was approveed and spending was under way already."

Fitzgerald said after his own demotion Air Force officers then wrested the entire contract review and cost-control program from civilian hands.

"I think the over-all climate and the level of opposition to cost-reducing measures, reinforced by occasional examples of personal disaster visited on economy proponents, it is not surprising that most working level government acquisition managers shy away from tough cost control actions," Fitzgerald said.

Chertoff Named As Chairman For Ohio Judge Unit

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff was appointed Tuesday as chairman of the public relations committee in charge of publications of the Ohio State Municipal Judges Association

SALINEVILLE — A Salineville youth was cited to Juvenile Court on charges of driving left of the center following a car-truck collision here Tuesday.

New York

election results, commenting: "We hope we do not have here another Los Angeles or Minneapolis."

Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles won re-election over Negro Councilman Thomas Bradley after a campaign which stressed the "law and order" issue.

In a mayoral election in Minneapolis last week, former police Detective Charles Stenvig defeated liberal Republican Dan Cohen. Stenvig had focused his campaign on the "law and order" issue.

The GOP defeat was a severe blow to the party prestige of Lindsay, who last year was cosidered a possible contender for the national ticket.

However, it did not knock the 47-year-old mayor out of contention for re-election to a second term in November. In a city that is 7-2 Democratic in voter registration, he will be the most liberal candidate in the three-man field.

Marchi, also 47, is the son of an Italian sculptor who came to New York to build movie sets and became a wax fruit manufacturer.

A soft-spoken man, Marchi has been in the state legislature since 1956 and has a strong civil rights record.

Marchi said he had been nominated by "a clear majority" of Republicans. He said he welcomed the support of all parties.

Procaccino, 59, is the son of an Italian shoemaker who moved to New York and set up shop in Harlem. The son went to City College and Fordham Law School, and rose through the ranks in city service.

Wagner appointed Procaccino a city judge shortly before he was elected comptroller in 1965. His main campaign theme was "safety in the streets," but he rejected complaints by Wagner and Badillo that he was appealing to racial bigotry. He called himself a moderate with liberal leanings and said he didn't want the backlash vote.

satchel charges and rocket-propelled grenades attacked a night base camp of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division in War Zone C, 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

That battle too raged for several hours before American artillery and helicopter gunships drove back the enemy.

Thirty-seven North Vietnamese soldiers and Three Americans were reported killed in the fight, and 16 Americans were wounded.

Twenty-four miles to the northeast, South Vietnamese civilian irregulars led by an American tank column fought a 3½-hour battle with North Vietnamese troops in a rubber plantation shortly after daylight. The allied force, backed by American bombers and helicopter gunships, reported killing 31 North Vietnamese.

One South Vietnamese irregular was killed and six irregulars and one American wounded, military spokesmen said.

The B52 bombers marked their anniversary with 10 missions against North Vietnamese bases and troop concentrations near the Laotian and Cambodian borders. The strikes ranged from 51 miles northwest of Saigon to 281 miles northeast of the capital.

Four years ago today, 30 of the eight-jet Stratofortresses flew 2,400 miles from Guam and entered the war by pounding Viet Cong troop concentrations 30 miles north of Saigon.

Since those first raids, the B52s have dropped more than one million tons of bombs on North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces and bases ranging from the Mekong Delta in South Vietnam to North Vietnam's southern panhandle.

Use of the big bombers in a guerrilla war in jungles has drawn some sharp criticism.

The announcement said these units make up the remainder of the 4,000 nondivisional Army personnel to be withdrawn. The other 2,000 are in Army Reserve and Army National Guard units.

Criss Slated To Testify

Driver's Statement Read In Trial On Manslaughter

LISBON — A statement made to an Ohio Highway Patrol officer after a two-car crash Feb. 6 north of town was read into the record of a traffic manslaughter trial Tuesday in Common Pleas Court.

James T. Criss Jr., 23, of 220 Lee Ave., Lisbon, is expected to testify today about the collision which fatally injured his friend and passenger, Charles T. Hutcheson, 23, formerly of Grant St.

The victim died Feb. 10 in Youngstown South Side Hospital. Dr. Nathan D. Belinkey, deputy coroner of Mahoning County, testified yesterday that death was caused by lung congestion. Young Hutchseon received a fractured elbow, leg and pelvis.

Cpl. John R. Lundquist of Highway Patrol Post 15 at Lisbon read the statement Criss gave him. The officer said he advised the driver of his constitutional rights before permitting him to talk.

ADMITTED over the objection of defense counsel William Brown, the statement read:

"I was going south on Route 45 about 60 miles per hour. A car appeared ahead of me. I don't know where he came from. I remember just seeing the rear of the car. He was in my lane heading south. I put on my brakes and my car started sliding sideways and I slid into the left lane and hit a car coming the other way."

Mrs. Rose Chestnut of Lisbon RD 4, driver of the northbound car, said she saw two cars come over the hillcrest ahead of her, one in each lane. She said the car in her lane slid sideways and hit her auto broadside.

O. Dail Mason of Lisbon RD 5 testified he was southbound, heard tires squealing and looked in his rearview mirror to see another southbound car skid by him and strike the northbound sedan. The accident occurred about 12:50 p.m.

BROWN based his objection to the introduction of the statement on grounds that Criss, when he made it, thought Hutcheson was going to be all right and had no idea the statement would be used against him in a manslaughter trial.

Cpl. Lundquist testified that Hutcheson was sitting on an embankment by the road waiting for the ambulance. He said he told Criss that Hutcheson did not appear to be hurt too badly but he said he added, "but I am not a doctor."

The defense side of the case began this morning with the testimony of Miss Connie Claus, 22, of Woodland Ave., Salem, a licensed practical nurse at Salem City Hospital.

She said she was a friend of the Hutchesons and was with the victim for all except about 24 hours of the four days he was in South Side Hospital.

She said she noticed his condition deteriorating Saturday and Sunday, the day before his death, and advised the nurses and doctors. In response to Brown's question, she said she had an opinion about the medical treatment given Hutcheson but, when Brown asked her to state her opinion, Judge Raymond S. Buzzard sustained the objection of Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis.

MISS CLAUS said she volunteered her information to Brown and was testifying voluntarily "just to help somebody out." She said she is a friend of the defendant.

State Highway Patrolmen Norman Carroll and John Van Horne testified concerning skid and tire marks left by the two cars in the crash.

Carroll said the Criss car left approximately 175 feet of skid marks in the southbound lane and 75 feet of tiremarks as it slid in the northbound lane. Mrs. Chestnut's car left 33 feet of skidmarks, all in the northbound lane. Mrs. Chestnut, who was injured, estimated her speed at about 35 miles per hour.

Cpl. Lundquist testified the posted speed at the scene is 45 miles per hour. He said Criss was seated with him in the cruiser and when he saw the wrecker come for his car remarked he was sorry to see it being wrecked because "it was the fastest car in Lisbon."

"He told me he had been in a drag race the night before down on Route 164 and had cleaned everyone," the officer related.

Criss took the stand next and testified he was not drag racing the night before as the officer quoted him as saying. Criss said his sister was driving the car and he was along "as an observer."

fact, we haven't yet found a dead duck," he said.

Menking was cited Monday night by village police. He pleaded "no contest."

Aims To Protect Eyesight

Ohio Senate Bill Bans Sale Of Certain Glasses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Senate has moved to protect the eyesight of Ohioans by prohibiting the sale of sunglasses and eyeglasses that contain nitrates in the frames.

Tuesday the Senate passed 31-0 and sent to the House a bill to keep the frames containing cellulose nitrate, a highly inflammable ingredient found in some explosives from being manufactured distributed or sold in Ohio.

Frames containing cellulose nitrate burn rapidly, often fiercely, when ignited. The gases given off are extremely poisonous and, under some conditions, explosive.

Violators would be fined a maximum of $100 for a first offense and a maximum of $500 for each subsequent offense.

Sen. John H. Weeks, R - 25 Lakewood, the bill's sponsor, said nitrates are found in frames of cheap eyeglasses and sunglasses that are sold mainly in department stores and dime stores in Ohio.

Weeks said almost all of the frames are manufactured outside the United States and that 250,000 are coming into this country every month, mostly from Japan, Italy, France, Austria and West Germany.

In 1965 most American Manufacturers of frames stopped using nitrates and began using safer plastics.

The Lakewood Senator described instances in other states where sparks from lighted cigars and cigarettes have fallen on the frames of cheap glasses, resulting in severe burns and even death, to the wearers.

He later said he did not know if any Ohioan had suffered burns as a result of the frames of his glasses catching fire.

Weeks told the Senate he had planned to burn the frames of a pair of eyeglasses purchased in Mansfield on the Senate floor, but was informed of a rule against demonstrations.

He promised "to burn the glasses in the men's washroom later."

The senator said Alaska and Connecticut have recently passed laws similar to his bill.

The Senate received a Democratic-sponsored resolution urging Ohio banks to rescind the latest prime interest rate increase.

It was sponsored by Sen. Ronald M. Mottl, D-24 Parma, who said in a news release that he felt those banks "that irresponsibly raised the interest rate" are "causing unnecessary problems for Ohio consumers."

In other legislative action Tuesday, the House drastically amended and then adopted a Senate-passed bill concerning the amount of interest the state or a political subdivision can pay for bonds or notes.

The original Senate bill would have completely removed the interest rate ceiling and allowed the political subdivisions to sell bonds and notes at the interest rate prevailing in the market.

But the House adopted an amendment sponsored by Rep. James Flannery, D-48 Cleveland, to set a statutory interest rate ceiling of eight per cent. The final vote was 75-11.

The Senate sponsor of the bill, Howard C. Cook, R-1 Toledo, said the bill probably will come back to the Senate today. Cook said he will urge the Senate to concur in the House amendment "unless the Ohio Municipal League feels we ought to argue about it."

The Toledo attorney said since "the House seems fairly determined to set an eight per cent limit" he would go along with it because cities will be able to sell bonds under that rate.

"Most municipal issues ought to go below six per cent—even with today's tight money market," he said.

If the Senate concurs with the amendment, the bill will be sent to the governor. Since the bill contains an emergency clause, it would become effective upon his signature.

The emtrgency clause was added in the Senate after many banks upped the prime interest rate and political subdivisions found it even harder to sell bonds at the present statutory interest rate limits.

The House passed 71-14 vote after an hour-long debate a bill to make it possible for six electric companies to form a holding company in Ohio by giving them a $4.9 million tax break.

The bill, which exempts public utility holding companies from the franchise tax, now goes to the governor.

The six companies which have expressed interest in forming a holding company are Toledo Edison, Ohio Edison, Dayton Power and Light, Cincinnati Gas and Electric, Cleveland Electric Illuminating and Duquesne Light Co. of Pittsburgh.

Under the bill, such a holding company would pay about $72,000 in franchise fees. Under present law, it would have to pay about $5 million in franchise taxes. The companies now pay a three per cent excise tax.

The companies have indicated they would probably form a holding company in another state if the Ohio law wasn't changed because they don't want to be subject to double taxation.

Sponsors of the bill said it would not cost the state anything because a holding company locating here would generate money and employment.

Opponents called it a "special interest" measure.

Rep. Arthur Wilkowski, D-79 Toledo said it was a utility-sponsored bill that had not had adequate study.

Two members of Franklin D. Roosevelt's cabinet held their offices throughout the entire period of his presidency — Harold Ickes and Frances Perkins.

Doomed Man Loses Bid For New Trial

Attorneys for the 23-year-old Negro contended new evidence had come to light in the June 27, 1964 shooting death of Peter Mazes, an assistant manager of a grocery market here.

Henley was convicted in June 1965. His latest stay of execution pushed the death date from May 13 to June 23.

Judge Ralph Kohnen of Common Pleas Court denied the motion for a new trial.

Tied To Surtax Extension

Administration Holds Up Voting Rights Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration is reported holding up proposed new voting rights legislation backed by Southerners for fear it will lose support among Northern congressmen for extending the income surtax.

For the fifth time in the last six weeks Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell has canceled an appearance before the House Judiciary Committte at which he was to give the administration's position on voting rights.

Mitchell gave no explanation when he asked the committee to cancel the meeting scheduled for today. But sources in and out of Capitol Hill said the postponement was requested to avoid antagonizing members whose votes will be needed to pass the surtax extension bill next week.

The voting bill the administration is backing would scrap the 1965 Voting Rights Act, a measure with broad bipartisan support that has led to dramatic gains by black voters in the seven Southern states where it is in effect.

The 1965 act would be replaced by a new law designed to deal with voter discrimination and fraud in all states. Supporters of the 1965 act feel the new proposal would be less effective in the South and that it is unnecessary in the other states.

For the past six weeks Northern Republicans who support the 1965 act have been trying to prevent the administration from abandoning it. They gained new power Tuesday when the House Ways and Means Committee approved the surtax extension requested by President Nixon as an urgently needed weapon against inflation.

The surtax faces heavy opposition anyway, and the danger of alienating any potential supporters by coming out for a voting bill unpopular with civil rights supporters apparently weighed heavily with the administration.

The Republicans favoring the 1965 act plan to use the new delay to continue their efforts to get the administration to support its continuance.

They hope that as a compromise Atty. Gen. Mitchell would agree to a three or five-year extension of the present law while a commission studied the problem of Negro voting to see if new legislation might be needed after that.

3 Counts Dismissed In Prison Riot Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Franklin County Common Pleas Court Tuesday dismissed three counts of prison rioting filed against Ohio Penitentiary inmate Louis E. Wells.

Buckeye Boys' State Assembly Considers Bills

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — The Buckeye Boys State legislature plowed through several bills Tuesday as it raced for adjournment Thursday night.

A Senate amended bill calling for a voting age of 19 in Ohio was sent back to the House, which hoped to approve it in time for Buckeye Boys State citizens to vote on the resolution.

The Senate faced 20 bills which had been submitted by Gov. Stan P. Silverstein, 17, of Findlay, following his State of the State address to a joint session of the legislature Tuesday morning.

His address called for a minimum annual wage, establishment of county vocational education centers and increased teacher salaries, and tax revision in the form of a graduated income tax.

The American Legion sponsored event ends Friday and two boys will be selected to attend Boys Nation in Washington, D. C. later this summer.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Tacks Hold Your Skirts

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE: Short of skirt hangers:

Just take a plain wooden one and push a thumbtack three-quarters of the way down near each end of the hanger to hook the skirt loops on. It can be spray painted if desired.

Margueruite Nelson.

And you're just as sharp as that tack, too, for thinking of this clever trick. Thanks heaps. HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: "HELP!" I'm being held prisoner by a messy, disorganized house and four messy, disorganized kids.

I would certainly throw in the towel this morning — if I could find a clean one, that is. FRUSTRATED.

DEAR HELOISE: Why don't measuring dents in cake pans measuring dents in ckae pans — like the ones in measuring cups?

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a very simple trick that saves tempers:

When folding documents, business letters, operating instructions or any other standard-size paper, try folding it with the writing on the outside. This provides instant identification when searching through desk or drawer for that misplaced paper. You don't waste time folding and refolding everything you come across.

MRS. B. BENDEZI.

DEAR HELOISE: To assemble a jigsaw puzzle, I get a grocery carton and cut two pieces from it about four inches larger than the finished size of the puzzle. Next I cut the center out of one piece to the exact size of the puzzle and glue the two pieces together.

Then I start assembling the puzzle inside the opening.

ALEX KUHARIC.

DEAR HELOISE: In the summer we keep our TV trays on the patio.

A plastic drycleaner's bag fits over them with a clothespin at the bottom to keep the wind from blowing it off.

The trays are always clean and ready for use.

DEAR HELOISE: When we expect company for dinner, I fill the ice tea glasses with ice at my convenience and put them into the freezer.

Then during the hectic time when I'm trying to get the food on the table, hot things hot and cold things cold, I don't have to stop and mess with ice trays. Besides, glasses are chilled and the tea gets icy quicker.

MRS. MIDDLETON.

DEAR HELOISE: I don't know what you think about children who call their mother "mummy."

Personally I hate it.

Have you ever seen a mummy: Each day that I look in the mirror after ironing, cleaning, and listening to screaming kids, I wonder if they aren't telling the truth after all?

But who wants to be reminded of it?

MOTHER.

Ohio Education Bill Slated Out Of Committee

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An education bill which would cost almost $61.8 million over the next two years if it is fully financed was expected to come out of the House Education Committee tonight.

The financing segment is contained in a separate bill.

The big items in the education bill include regional service centers, vocational education, aid to nonpublic schools and subsidies to students of the medical college at Case Western Reserve University.

The bill does not contain the major state aid to schools—the money that goes into the State Foundation Formula.

If fully financed, the following amounts would be spent over the next two years: Centers, $3.4 million; vocational education, $23.7 million; nonpublic schools, $33.8 million and subsidies, $870,000.

Up until Tuesday night, the subsidies for medical students would have cost $3.5 million. But the committee approved a Democratic amendment requiring that only students from Ohio would be eligible for the subsidies.

At present about 76 per cent of the university's medical students come from out of state.

Black Panther Dropouts Called

Possible Links Between Black Power, Riots Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two dropouts from the Black Panthers were called to Capitol Hill today by Senate investigators looking for possible links between the militant black power group and campus and urban violence.

As was the case in the first two days of hearings, the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations, chaired by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., declined to reveal in advance the names of the witnesses called to testify on the leadership and plans of the Black Panthers.

The panel's previous hearings were devoted to the radical Students for a Democratic Society, which has also come under new attack by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover for allegedly following a Communist blueprint to disrupt war production.

Hoover, writing in a labor union newspaper, said the summer "work-in" manual issued by SDS is actually a document originally drafted by pro-Red Chinese American Communists.

Hoover's charges against SDS are being published in the weekly newspaper of the million-member AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists.

The Associated Press last month described the "work-in" manual in detail, including plans to persuade workers to stop war production.

"Closing down our schools is not enough," the SDS instructions said. "Workers produce and move the goods that are used in the war and it is they who are primarily forced to fight the war. They can stop it."

In writing to the Machinists, Hoover said SDS wants to convince workers "that this country is 'rotten,' 'sick,' and 'diseased,' and therefore should be destroyed.

"The SDS has no respect for unions and their efforts to protect the workers and work for the best interests of their country. To the SDS, unions are part of the 'Establishment,' and should be destroyed along with the government, the military, private industry and law enforcement," the FBI chief said.

More testimony about alleged Communist involvement in the SDS came Tuesday from a detective chief and a police infiltrator who appeared before the Senate subcommittee.

Capt. Daniel C. Myre of the Michigan State Police detectives identified numerous SDS leaders as self-avowed Communists who advocated revolution in the United States.

The people of this nation must decide, he said, whether persons who openly identify themselves as sympathetic to the Communist philosophy, who conspire to infiltrate the labor force and education system and who intimidate military recruiters are a threat to this country.

If not, said Myre, then so be it. But if they decide a threat exists:

"It may be incumbent upon them to react en masse and in so doing develop such a tremendous surge of antirevolution public opinion as to completely destroy and immediately smother such subversive and revolutionary forces . . ."

McClellan said he agreed.

"Your evidence and the other evidence I know of indicates it is a threat to our security," he said.

Lawrence I. Kihnel Jr., a detective on the Jefferson Parish, La., sheriff's department, said he infiltrated a branch of the SDS for seven months last year.

Kihnel, who said his undercover role was disclosed and he was stabbed in the stomach on leaving an SDS meeting, testified the organization is a Communist outfit dedicated to overthrow of the government.

"I'm not saying all SDS members are Communists," Kihnel said, "except 90 per cent of those on the board admit they are Communists. Those leaders are elected in a very democratic way and they know they are electing Communists to represent themselves."

Innocent Plea Given In Ohio Murder Case

CINCINNATI (AP)—Barbara Shutt pleaded innocent Tuesday to a charge of first-degree murder in the shooting-bludgeoning of her foster mother.

She remained free under $20,000 bond after the arraignment before Judge Louis Schneider of Hamilton County Common Pleas Court. Bond was set and posted Friday for the part-time school teacher was indicted.

Dr. Jane Shutt, 43, was shot four times with a .25 caliber pistol and beaten with a poker in her home May 25.

Due Viet Withdrawal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 311th Field Hospital reserve unit will be withdrawn from South Vietnam before Aug. 31 under President Nixon's planned withdrawl of 25,000 American troops, the Pentagon announced Tuesday.

The unit is composed of 210 Cincinnati - area men and has been in Vietnam since November 1968. It was mobilized in April 1968.

Cocktails And Carpets?

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I own a profitable carpet business. My brother works for us. Vernon and I do the selling and my brother and a helper do the installations.

Yesterday a socially prominent woman came in and selected some expensive carpeting for a small room. Vernon sold it to her. She asked if he would lay the carpet personally. Instead of telling her that someone else does the installation, he said, "I'd be happy to."

Today Vernon left the shop with the lady's carpeting. He was gone five hours and I was worried sick. He came back at 6 p.m. — drunk as a skunk — said they'd had a few cocktails, got to talking and lost track of time. He also said my brother should go over tomorrow and lay the carpeting as he never got around to it.

I'm furious. If Vernon had been picked up in our truck for drunk driving it could have ruined us. When I tried to explain this to him he called me square and said personal attention is good for business. What do you say? — ALMA.

Dear Alma: Personal attention IS good for business, but when it get TOO personal it's bad for for business. Tell Vernon to stay in the shop and out of the truck and let your brother make all the house calls from now on.

Piercing Answer

Dear Ann: I'm a widow who is getting mighty fed up on women who view every unmarried female as a threat to their marriages.

A woman I work with was leaving the office just as I was. Her husband was waiting in front to pick her up. When he saw me, he poked his head out the car window and asked if I'd like a lift home. (They live a few bocks from my apartment.)

I said, "Yes, thank you," and started toward the car. His wife leaped in front of me and elbowed her way into the car to make certain I didn't sit next to him.

I said, in a voice dripping with honey, "Your husband is very attractive, Myrtle, but I make it a rule never to attack a man while he's driving."

Her face turned red and she didn't reply. Her husband laughed for five minutes. This morning when I saw her in the office she was very cool.

Do you feel I spoke out of turn?—V.B.C.

Dear V.: Your remark was exquisite. I couldn't have done better myself.

Safety First

Dear Ann: We just brought our 2½-year-old daughter and our 1½-year-old boy home from the hospital. They had their stomachs pumped. It wasn't a very pleasant experience for us or for them.

Please inform all mothers in your reading audience that no bottle is childproof and no shelf is out of reach. All medicines and cleaning fluids should be kept in a metal box or a cupboard — under lock and key.

Surely the extra trouble is worth a child's life. Your youngster may not be as lucky as ours. — CUYAHOGA FALLS. FALLS.

Dear C.F.: I've printed such warnings in the past but I'm willing to do so again. Busy mothers forget and need to be reminded.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jumping To Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

When the world is too much with you, the best way to get away from it all is to take a nap. People who take regular afternoon naps worry less and live longer than those who waste their energies brooding over problems about which they can do nothing.

Nothing is impossible to a man who can eat raw clams—and enjoy them.

There has been a lot of criticism lately of America's "industrial military complex." What most of us want to know, however, is how we can become members of it and get our fair share of the profits from defensive patriotism.

The longer a novelist writes, the lazier he usually is. He expects the reader to weed the prose he should weed himself. It is far easier to write a bad novel of 800 pages than a good one of 350 pages.

Apples now cost up to 20 cents or more each in Manhattan supermarkets. If their prices go much higher, it may become cheaper to see your doctor than to eat an apple a day to keep him away.

Nature tries to hide her mistakes; half the girls who wear miniskirts frustrate her by revealing them.

We fret about how we will ever be able to afford to send our children to college, but parenthood is a tough ordeal for birds, too. Take a mother robin, for example. She must provide each of her clamorous brood of nestlings with 14 feet of worms every 24 hours. It is a wonder that the orange feathers on her breast don't turn gray.

About the only exercise some people get today is pointing the finger of scorn.

If you want to invest your money safely, lend it to a man who still wears spats. He is too old-fashioned to be dishonest.

A man with a new set of false teeth usually brags that he can eat anything. But if you lunch with him at a restaurant, you will notice he orders chicken a la king or corned beef hash more often than he does steak.

It's a funny thing about the business world—the harder the decisions an executive has to make, the softer is the cushion in his swivel chair throne.

It is true that every dog has his day; it is also true that every day something happens to the average guy to make him feel like a dog.

In reading the Monday morning newspapers, isn't it amazing to note over a period of time how many Sunday golfers are struck by lightning—and how few people are hit in church?

One of the best ways to stop the population explosion would be to teach every male child at the age of 5 to cook his own meals and sew buttons on his shirt.

Watching horse opera shoot-em-outs and pro football games on color television can be highly educational. For one thing it teaches the alert viewer to distinguish between ketchup and real gore.

Probation Asked In Plea Change

LISBON — Robert James Savors, 35, of Lawrenceville Rd., Chester RD 1, appeared in Common Pleas Court Tuesday to withdraw a not guilty plea and plead guilty to aiding and abetting in an East Liverpool burglary Jan. 20.

Savors was indicted in connection with a break-in at James Pillar's Gulf Oil Station, 1120 Pennsylvania Ave.

Like Robert J. Prescott, 23, of 212 Jackson St., East Liverpool, who pleaded guilty June 9 to the service station burglary, Savors asked for probation.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard ordered a pre-sentence investigation and report for Savors just as he had for Prescott.

Legion Post 374 Sets Trophy For Player Of Year

The award will be called the "Soap Wilson Memorial Award" in honor of the late Ivor Wilson, a former manager of the Legion team.

Jerry Hilliard was enrolled as a member. John Long, finance officer, submitted a report. Donald Robbinette, a past steward of the post, was reported a patient in a Missouri hospital.

Final Program Set For Friday At Bible School

The closing program of the Vacation Bible School of the First United Presbyterian Church will be held Friday at 10:30 a.m. Regular classes begin at 9.

Certificates will be awarded those with perfect attendance for the two-week classes and each department will present memory verses and songs.

Mrs. Joan Ferguson and Mrs. Martha Gaston have been in charge of the Nursery Department, Mrs. Helen Wolf, Beginners and Mrs. Alice Barbour, Primary.

Also taking part will be the Junior Department, under the direction of Miss Jean VanDyne, and the Young Teens, with Mrs. Ruth Weir in charge.

Mrs. Ethel Richman is director and Dr. A. K. Davison is minister. Parents and friends of the students are invited to attend.

By ANNE ASHLEY

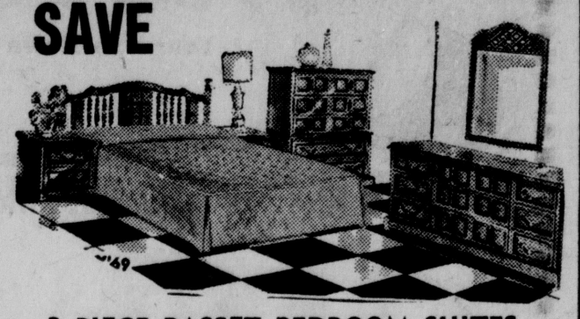

Q. — How can I remedy a container of lumpy paint?

A. — One very easy way to strain it without pouring it from its can is by cutting a circle from an old window screen slightly smaller in diameter than the inside of the paint can, stirring your paint, and then dropping this screen into the can. As the screen settles to the bottom of the can it will carry all the lumps with it.

QUESTION — "Our young pastor intimates that funeral directors are usurping his role as a counselor in time of grief. Is this assumption true"?

ANSWER — Young religious leaders who accept this thesis as taught to them in some seminaries are in the minority. Long experience constantly revokes this theory. Experiencd pastors continue to counsel their parishioners on the religious rites and the funeral directors in the realm of material services.

Aims To Protect Eyesight

Ohio Senate Bill Bans Sale Of Certain Glasses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Senate has moved to protect the eyesight of Ohioans by prohibiting the sale of sunglasses and eyeglasses that contain nitrates in the frames.

Tuesday the Senate passed 31-0 and sent to the House a bill to keep the frames containing cellulose nitrate, a highly inflammable ingredient found in some explosives from being manufactured distributed or sold in Ohio.

Frames containing cellulose nitrate burn rapidly, often fiercely, when ignited. The gases given off are extremely poisonous and, under some conditions, explosive.

Violators would be fined a maximum of $100 for a first offense and a maximum of $500 for each subsequent offense.

Sen. John H. Weeks, R - 25 Lakewood, the bill's sponsor, said nitrates are found in frames of cheap eyeglasses and sunglasses that are sold mainly in department stores and dime stores in Ohio.

Weeks said almost all of the frames are manufactured outside the United States and that 250,000 are coming into this country every month, mostly from Japan, Italy, France, Austria and West Germany.

In 1965 most American Manufacturers of frames stopped using nitrates and began using safer plastics.

The Lakewood Senator described instances in other states where sparks from lighted cigars and cigarettes have fallen on the frames of cheap glasses, resulting in severe burns and even death, to the wearers.

He later said he did not know if any Ohioan had suffered burns as a result of the frames of his glasses catching fire.

Weeks told the Senate he had planned to burn the frames of a pair of eyeglasses purchased in Mansfield on the Senate floor, but was informed of a rule against demonstrations.

He promised "to burn the glasses in the men's washroom later."

The senator said Alaska and Connecticut have recently passed laws similar to his bill.

The Senate received a Democratic-sponsored resolution urging Ohio banks to rescind the latest prime interest rate increase.

It was sponsored by Sen. Ronald M. Mottl, D-24 Parma, who said in a news release that he felt those banks "that irresponsibly raised the interest rate" are "causing unnecessary problems for Ohio consumers."

In other legislative action Tuesday, the House drastically amended and then adopted a Senate-passed bill concerning the amount of interest the state or a political subdivision can pay for bonds or notes.

The original Senate bill would have completely removed the interest rate ceiling and allowed the political subdivisions to sell bonds and notes at the interest rate prevailing in the market.

But the House adopted an amendment sponsored by Rep. James Flannery, D-48 Cleveland, to set a statutory interest rate ceiling of eight per cent. The final vote was 75-11.

The Senate sponsor of the bill, Howard C. Cook, R-1 Toledo, said the bill probably will come back to the Senate today. Cook said he will urge the Senate to concur in the House amendment "unless the Ohio Municipal League feels we ought to argue about it."

The Toledo attorney said since "the House seems fairly determined to set an eight per cent limit" he would go along with it because cities will be able to sell bonds under that rate.

"Most municipal issues ought to go below six per cent—even with today's tight money market," he said.

If the Senate concurs with the amendment, the bill will be sent to the governor. Since the bill contains an emergency clause, it would become effective upon his signature.

The emtrgency clause was added in the Senate after many banks upped the prime interest rate and political subdivisions found it even harder to sell bonds at the present statutory interest rate limits.

The House passed 71-14 vote after an hour-long debate a bill to make it possible for six electric companies to form a holding company in Ohio by giving them a $4.9 million tax break.

The bill, which exempts public utility holding companies from the franchise tax, now goes to the governor.

The six companies which have expressed interest in forming a holding company are Toledo Edison, Ohio Edison, Dayton Power and Light, Cincinnati Gas and Electric, Cleveland Electric Illuminating and Duquesne Light Co. of Pittsburgh.

Under the bill, such a holding company would pay about $72,000 in franchise fees. Under present law, it would have to pay about $5 million in franchise taxes. The companies now pay a three per cent excise tax.

The companies have indicated they would probably form a holding company in another state if the Ohio law wasn't changed because they don't want to be subject to double taxation.

Sponsors of the bill said it would not cost the state anything because a holding company locating here would generate money and employment.

Opponents called it a "special interest" measure.

Rep. Arthur Wilkowski, D-79 Toledo said it was a utility-sponsored bill that had not had adequate study.

Doomed Man Loses Bid For New Trial

Attorneys for the 23-year-old Negro contended new evidence had come to light in the June 27, 1964 shooting death of Peter Mazes, an assistant manager of a grocery market here.

Henley was convicted in June 1965. His latest stay of execution pushed the death date from May 13 to June 23.

Judge Ralph Kohnen of Common Pleas Court denied the motion for a new trial.

Paul Fix: Always A Chief

PAGE, Ariz. — The traveling "Here's Lucy" show has reached the shores of Lake Powell, that shimmering body of water that winds back 100 miles through the desolate chasms, buttes and mesas of Monument Valley, backed up by the gigantic Glen Canyon Dam.

Cecil Smith

South of the dam in the Navajo country on a windswept mesa under a blistering desert sun, the company was shooting a comedy in which Lucy inadvertently married an ancient Navajo chief.

HALF A HUNDRED Navajos were milling through the red dust around the chief's mud hogan, sharing the mountaintop with herds of sheep and goats. The chief (Sitting Buffalo) stood apart in war bonnet and jeweled regalia, leaning on a feathered spear. He was suddenly winded. Behind the makeup was an old friend, Paul Fix.

Always a chief, never an Indian," said Paul. "Been that way ever since I had my choppers out, which was back when I was making 'Wake of the Red Witch' with Duke Wayne. Last time I worked with George," nodding toward venerable director George Marshall, "I was doing an old Indian chief on Daniel Boone.

"When I was a young buck, I played Indians. Played everything. But those were the 10th-through-the-door days."

PAUL is almost a walking history of Hollywood. He's been doing films for nearly 50 years, though he's still miles behind 77-year-old George Marshall, who began making movies in 1914 and still outdistances a crew. Paul talks the lingo of old Hollywood —like "tenth through the door."

This goes back to the days when almost every movie ended with the hero and his gang bursting into the cabin of the villian to rescue the heroine. The actors always ran through the cabin door in the order of their importance.

Thus, an actor would describe a good part as "third through the door," a lousy one as "sixth through the door."

WE SAT in a batch of shade, Paul Sweating under 30 pounds of costume, watching Marshall direct Lucille Ball and Gale Gordon in a comic bit. Genuine Indians squatted around us, including Iron Eyes Cody, the veteran Indian actor (a Cherokee). The scene was very funny but the Navajos watched it impassively.

"Trouble with these parts," said Paul, "is I speak nothing but Navajo. Forget a word and you're dead."

"Yeah," said young Mickey Manners, who was playing an Indian guide. "You ever try to wing it in Navajo?"

We talked of the old Hollywood, of the days when Paul was acting on the state at night and making movies during the day and trying to get his two pals, Clark Gable and Stuart Erwin, jobs in films.

"Nobody could see Clark for films," he said, "not with those ears. And Stu was our stage manager.

"The three of us were great golfers. Stu owned a driver and Clark had a putter and I hunted in the tall grass for balls."

PAUL was with Gable when he did "The Last Mile" on the stage, the role that sent the Gable career into movie orbit. at about that time he met a young football player who wanted to be an actor, Duke Morrison, later John Wayne.

"Duke thought I was a helluva actor and he asked me to coach him in how to act, remembered Paul. "We were together 25 years."

Paul wrote scripts, directed dialog and acted in Wayne movies. He left the big man to work with another athlete turned actor, Chuck Connors, playing Marshal Micah Torrance in "The Rifleman" for five years.

Now he sticks mostly to acting ("too lazy to write"): he just completed a Wayne movie, "The Undefeated," and an edition of "Name of the Game." And here in his war bonnet he was grunting through "Here's Lucy.

"Wish they'd let me play an Indian brave in a loincloth once in a while," he said. "These chief costumes are too hot."

Reports Due Friday, Candidates Reminded

The County Election Board reminded today that sworn statements of campaign expenses must be filed by Friday at 4 p.m. by all candidates who sought nomination in the May primaries, as well as by committees which supported or opposed any aspirant or issue.

Eleven winners still have not filed the reports, despite a state law that says they cannot be issued cerificates of nomination unless they comply, the board said. Without the certificates, the candidates cannot advance to the general election in November.

Law also provides that persons who fail to file the reports will be barred from seeking public office again for a minimum of five years, the board reminded.

During World War II, 90 per cent of all military supplies were transported by trail, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

ANN LANDERS

Cocktails And Carpets?

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I own a profitable carpet business. My brother works for us. Vernon and I do the selling and my brother and a helper do the installations.

Yesterday a socially prominent woman came in and selected some expensive carpeting for a small room. Vernon sold it to her. She asked if he would lay the carpet personally. Instead of telling her that someone else does the installation, he said, "I'd be happy to."

Today Vernon left the shop with the lady's carpeting. He was gone five hours and I was worried sick. He came back at 6 p.m. — drunk as a skunk — said they'd had a few cocktails, got to talking and lost track of time. He also said my brother should go over tomorrow and lay the carpeting as he never got around to it.

I'm furious. If Vernon had been picked up in our truck for drunk driving it could have ruined us. When I tried to explain this to him he called me square and said personal attention is good for business. What do you say? — ALMA.

Dear Alma: Personal attention IS good for business, but when it get TOO personal it's bad for for business. Tell Vernon to stay in the shop and out of the truck and let your brother make all the house calls from now on.

Piercing Answer

Dear Ann: I'm a widow who is getting mighty fed up on women who view every unmarried female as a threat to their marriages.

A woman I work with was leaving the office just as I was. Her husband was waiting in front to pick her up. When he saw me, he poked his head out the car window and asked if I'd like a lift home. (They live a few bocks from my apartment.)

I said, "Yes, thank you," and started toward the car. His wife leaped in front of me and elbowed her way into the car to make certain I didn't sit next to him.

I said, in a voice dripping with honey, "Your husband is very attractive, Myrtle, but I make it a rule never to attack a man while he's driving."

Her face turned red and she didn't reply. Her husband laughed for five minutes. This morning when I saw her in the office she was very cool.

Do you feel I spoke out of turn?—V.B.C.

Dear V.: Your remark was exquisite. I couldn't have done better myself.

Safety First

Dear Ann: We just brought our 2½-year-old daughter and our 1½-year-old boy home from the hospital. They had their stomachs pumped. It wasn't a very pleasant experience for us or for them.

Please inform all mothers in your reading audience that no bottle is childproof and no shelf is out of reach. All medicines and cleaning fluids should be kept in a metal box or a cupboard — under lock and key.

Surely the extra trouble is worth a child's life. Your youngster may not be as lucky as ours. — CUYAHOGA FALLS. FALLS.

Dear C.F.: I've printed such warnings in the past but I'm willing to do so again. Busy mothers forget and need to be reminded.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jumping To Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

When the world is too much with you, the best way to get away from it all is to take a nap. People who take regular afternoon naps worry less and live longer than those who waste their energies brooding over problems about which they can do nothing.

Nothing is impossible to a man who can eat raw clams—and enjoy them.

There has been a lot of criticism lately of America's "industrial military complex." What most of us want to know, however, is how we can become members of it and get our fair share of the profits from defensive patriotism.

The longer a novelist writes, the lazier he usually is. He expects the reader to weed the prose he should weed himself. It is far easier to write a bad novel of 800 pages than a good one of 350 pages.

Apples now cost up to 20 cents or more each in Manhattan supermarkets. If their prices go much higher, it may become cheaper to see your doctor than to eat an apple a day to keep him away.

Nature tries to hide her mistakes; half the girls who wear miniskirts frustrate her by revealing them.

We fret about how we will ever be able to afford to send our children to college, but parenthood is a tough ordeal for birds, too. Take a mother robin, for example. She must provide each of her clamorous brood of nestlings with 14 feet of worms every 24 hours. It is a wonder that the orange feathers on her breast don't turn gray.

About the only exercise some people get today is pointing the finger of scorn.

If you want to invest your money safely, lend it to a man who still wears spats. He is too old-fashioned to be dishonest.

A man with a new set of false teeth usually brags that he can eat anything. But if you lunch with him at a restaurant, you will notice he orders chicken a la king or corned beef hash more often than he does steak.

It's a funny thing about the business world—the harder the decisions an executive has to make, the softer is the cushion in his swivel chair throne.

It is true that every dog has his day; it is also true that every day something happens to the average guy to make him feel like a dog.

In reading the Monday morning newspapers, isn't it amazing to note over a period of time how many Sunday golfers are struck by lightning—and how few people are hit in church?

One of the best ways to stop the population explosion would be to teach every male child at the age of 5 to cook his own meals and sew buttons on his shirt.

Watching horse opera shoot-em-outs and pro football games on color television can be highly educational. For one thing it teaches the alert viewer to distinguish between ketchup and real gore.

Probation Asked In Plea Change

LISBON — Robert James Savors, 35, of Lawrenceville Rd., Chester RD 1, appeared in Common Pleas Court Tuesday to withdraw a not guilty plea and plead guilty to aiding and abetting in an East Liverpool burglary Jan. 20.

Savors was indicted in connection with a break-in at James Pillar's Gulf Oil Station, 1120 Pennsylvania Ave.

Like Robert J. Prescott, 23, of 212 Jackson St., East Liverpool, who pleaded guilty June 9 to the service station burglary, Savors asked for probation.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard ordered a pre-sentence investigation and report for Savors just as he had for Prescott.

Legion Post 374 Sets Trophy For Player Of Year

The award will be called the "Soap Wilson Memorial Award" in honor of the late Ivor Wilson, a former manager of the Legion team.

Jerry Hilliard was enrolled as a member. John Long, finance officer, submitted a report. Donald Robbinette, a past steward of the post, was reported a patient in a Missouri hospital.

By ANNE ASHLEY

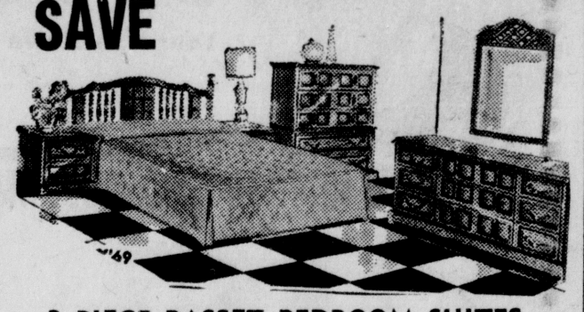

Q. — How can I remedy a container of lumpy paint?

A. — One very easy way to strain it without pouring it from its can is by cutting a circle from an old window screen slightly smaller in diameter than the inside of the paint can, stirring your paint, and then dropping this screen into the can. As the screen settles to the bottom of the can it will carry all the lumps with it.

Woodrow Wilson served as governor of New Jersey before he became president.

QUESTION — "Our young pastor intimates that funeral directors are usurping his role as a counselor in time of grief. Is this assumption true"?

ANSWER — Young religious leaders who accept this thesis as taught to them in some seminaries are in the minority. Long experience constantly revokes this theory. Experiencd pastors continue to counsel their parishioners on the religious rites and the funeral directors in the realm of material services.

Paul Fix: Always A Chief

PAGE, Ariz. — The traveling "Here's Lucy" show has reached the shores of Lake Powell, that shimmering body of water that winds back 100 miles through the desolate chasms, buttes and mesas of Monument Valley, backed up by the gigantic Glen Canyon Dam.

Cecil Smith

South of the dam in the Navajo country on a windswept mesa under a blistering desert sun, the company was shooting a comedy in which Lucy inadvertently married an ancient Navajo chief.

HALF A HUNDRED Navajos were milling through the red dust around the chief's mud hogan, sharing the mountaintop with herds of sheep and goats. The chief (Sitting Buffalo) stood apart in war bonnet and jeweled regalia, leaning on a feathered spear. He was suddenly winded. Behind the makeup was an old friend, Paul Fix.

Always a chief, never an Indian," said Paul. "Been that way ever since I had my choppers out, which was back when I was making 'Wake of the Red Witch' with Duke Wayne. Last time I worked with George," nodding toward venerable director George Marshall, "I was doing an old Indian chief on Daniel Boone.

"When I was a young buck, I played Indians. Played everything. But those were the 10th-through-the-door days."

PAUL is almost a walking history of Hollywood. He's been doing films for nearly 50 years, though he's still miles behind 77-year-old George Marshall, who began making movies in 1914 and still outdistances a crew. Paul talks the lingo of old Hollywood —like "tenth through the door."

This goes back to the days when almost every movie ended with the hero and his gang bursting into the cabin of the villian to rescue the heroine. The actors always ran through the cabin door in the order of their importance.

Thus, an actor would describe a good part as "third through the door," a lousy one as "sixth through the door."

WE SAT in a batch of shade, Paul Sweating under 30 pounds of costume, watching Marshall direct Lucille Ball and Gale Gordon in a comic bit. Genuine Indians squatted around us, including Iron Eyes Cody, the veteran Indian actor (a Cherokee). The scene was very funny but the Navajos watched it impassively.

"Trouble with these parts," said Paul, "is I speak nothing but Navajo. Forget a word and you're dead."

"Yeah," said young Mickey Manners, who was playing an Indian guide. "You ever try to wing it in Navajo?"

We talked of the old Hollywood, of the days when Paul was acting on the state at night and making movies during the day and trying to get his two pals, Clark Gable and Stuart Erwin, jobs in films.

"Nobody could see Clark for films," he said, "not with those ears. And Stu was our stage manager.

"The three of us were great golfers. Stu owned a driver and Clark had a putter and I hunted in the tall grass for balls."

PAUL was with Gable when he did "The Last Mile" on the stage, the role that sent the Gable career into movie orbit. at about that time he met a young football player who wanted to be an actor, Duke Morrison, later John Wayne.

"Duke thought I was a helluva actor and he asked me to coach him in how to act, remembered Paul. "We were together 25 years."

Paul wrote scripts, directed dialog and acted in Wayne movies. He left the big man to work with another athlete turned actor, Chuck Connors, playing Marshal Micah Torrance in "The Rifleman" for five years.

Now he sticks mostly to acting ("too lazy to write"): he just completed a Wayne movie, "The Undefeated," and an edition of "Name of the Game." And here in his war bonnet he was grunting through "Here's Lucy."

"Wish they'd let me play an Indian brave in a loincloth once in a while," he said. "These chief costumes are too hot."

Drake To Start Duty As Deputy On July 1

LISBON — Ralph N. Drake, 34, of 435 W. Maple St., Columbiana county game protector, will begin work July 1 as a deputy for Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan.

Drake has been game protector four years and prior to that was assistant superintendent at Pleasant Hills Park near Mansfield.

A native of Morgan County, he is married and has three children. He will be an additional deputy, the ninth, on the sheriff's staff and will receive $500 per month to start.

Reports Due Friday, Candidates Reminded

The County Election Board reminded today that sworn statements of campaign expenses must be filed by Friday at 4 p.m. by all candidates who sought nomination in the May primaries, as well as by committees which supported or opposed any aspirant or issue.

Eleven winners still have not filed the reports, despite a state law that says they cannot be issued cerificates of nomination unless they comply, the board said. Without the certificates, the candidates cannot advance to the general election in November.

Law also provides that persons who fail to file the reports will be barred from seeking public office again for a minimum of five years, the board reminded.

During World War II, 90 per cent of all military supplies were transported by trail, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Hebner Drives In Both Winning Runs As Bucs Trip Cubs

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Four outfielders didn't keep Richie Allen from going for the home run, and three outfielders certainly weren't going to stop Hank Aaron from doing the same. So how could the Chicago Cubs expect to keep Richie Hebner from hitting singles?

The Cubs tried the commmonplace defense of four infielders and three outfielders against Hebner and failed miserably—twice—when the Pittsburgh rookie singled in the winning runs in both games Tuesday as the Pirates swept the Cubs 1-0 and 4-3 in a twi-night twinbill.

The New York Mets were most imaginative with four outfielders against Allen in the ninth inning of their opener against Philadelphia. And while the strategy had little effect on Allen, he did strike out going for a tying homer and the Mets won 1-0, and then dropped the nightcap 6-3.

Houston probably wishes it had tried the unusual defense against Aaron. It couldn't have done any harm because Aaron hammered a homer in the ninth inning to give Atlanta a 6-5 victory over the Astros.

In other National League games, nothing could stop Los Angeles as the Dodgers swept San Diego 7-3 and 11-0, Juan Marichal pitched San Francisco by Cincinnati 4-0 and St. Louis tripped Montreal 2-0 behind Steve Carlton and Joe Hoerner.

Hebner, one of the surprises of the league with a .319 average, has only three home runs among his 67 hits, but singles were enough to drop the West Division leading Cubs twice.

After Matty Alou, the league's leading hitter, doubled in the seventh inning of the opener against loser Ferguson Jenkins, 8-4, Hebner decided the contest with a run-scoring single.

Bob Veale, 4-7, relieved by Bruce Dal Canton in the eighth, got the victory.

Then, in the ninth inning of the nightcap, Hebner rubbed salt in the Chicago wound when the Cubs walked Alou intentionally to fill the bases and Hebner delivered another single to break a 3-3 deadlock.

His other hit, another single, came when the Pirates tied the game with two runs in the eighth inning, undoing the damage caused by Chicago homers by Don Kessinger, Willie Smith and Billy Williams in the third inning for a 3-1 lead.

Another rookie, Gary Gentry, 6-5, of the Mets, proved more effective than Manager Gil Hodges' strategy as he stopped the Phillies' five-game winning streak with a two-hitter. When Hodges chose to move second baseman Al Weis into the outfield with two out and none on in the ninth and the slugging Allen at bat, Gentry responded by striking out Allen on three pitches.

Ken Boswell's single, a balk and J.C. Martin's single in the seventh inning beat rookie Billy Champion, 1-2, who gave only four hits in eight innings.

Hodges, following the same strategy Cincinnati tried against San Francisco's Willie McCovey Monday, explained that he wanted to keep Allen from getting an extra base hit. And Allen called it "a darn smart move," but admitted he still was up there going for it (a home run)."

Oddly, Allen homered his first time up in the second game and rookie Larry Hisle hit two behind Grant Jackson's six-hitter as the Phillies salvaged a split.

Houston, in contrast, stuck with three outfielders and Aaron led off the ninth of a 5-5 game with his 18th homer for the Braves' fourth consecutive victory.

Andy Kosco capped a seven-run seventh inning for Los Angeles in the opener with a two-run homer and the Dodgers erupted for six runs, three on Willie Crawford's homer, in the fourth inning of the nightcap. Kosco also drove in three runs in the second game as Alan Foster, 2-4, scattered seven hits and extended his scoreless string to 21 innings.

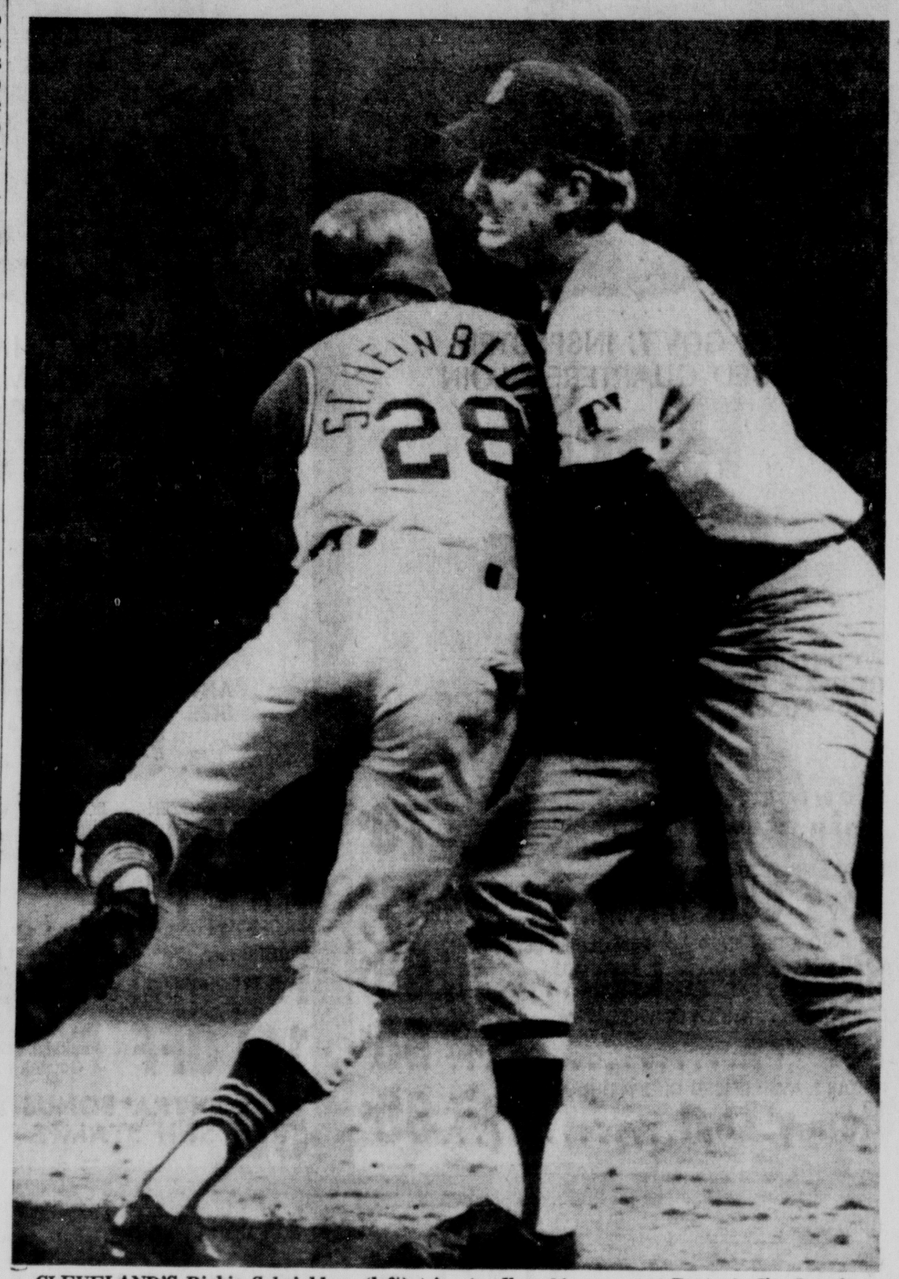

Marichal, 8-2, who has beaten Cincinnati nine straight times since Sept. 22, 1965, stopped the Reds on five hits for his third shutout.

Carlton, 7-4, yielded only four hits before Hoerner relieved with one out in the eighth and preserved his shutout and the Cardinals' triumph. Curt Flood doubled in both runs in the seventh inning.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING—Rookie Gary Gentry, who pitched five perfect innings and wound up with a two-hitter as the New York Mets blanked Philadelphi 1-0 in the first game of a doubleheader.

BATTING—Richie Hebner, who singled in the only run in the opener and the winning run in the nightcap as Pittsburgh whipped the Chicago Cubs 1-0 and 4-3.

Montgomery Hits 3rd Grand Slam To Pace Veteran Glass

Slammin Ken Montgomery belted his third grand slam of the season as Veteran Plate Glass defeated the Travelers Hotel, 6-2 in one of three Little League contests Tuesday.

Montgomery supplied the big punch and Rick Campbell was the winning pitcher fanning 13 batters. Campbell and Gary Roberts collected three hits each to pace the 11-hit attack. Steve Baker was the losing pitcher.

In other games, the Medics topped Chester Legion 8-3 behind the pitching of Staley who gave up four hits. A triple and double by Bill Vocial plus two hits each by Staley, Matrin and Hargraves led the Medics. Gregory was the losing hurler.

Parson's Coal produced the biggest score of the night with a 22-7 rout of Burbick's. Parson's collected 18 hits including three each by Gene Bell, Brian Wright, Don Samples and Scott Stacy. Dave Eckstein was the winning pitcher with Tim Baron the loser. Calhoon had two hits for Burbick's.

Super Foods Nip Merchants In Ruth Contest

Super Foods edged the Merchants, 8-7, in extra innings of a Wellsville Babe Ruth League game Tuesday at Hammond Park.

Pete Desenze scored the winning pitcher with Dave Thompson the loser. Jim DiCello doubled for the losers.

Seveks will play Sterling China today.

Litten's Top Burbick's In Pony League

Litten's came from behind to defeat Burbick's, 8-5, in the Pony League Tuesday.

Behind 3-1, Litten's tied the game at 3-3 in the fifth then tied it again at 4-4 in the sixth inning before breaking the contest open with four runs in the seventh. The four-run rally was the result of a walk, three hits and three errors by Burbick's.

Brad Glass and Bob Baugher led the winners with three hits each with Glass collecting a pair of doubles. Jeff Howell had two hits and Larry Chamberlain came up with a key double in the seventh inning.

Bob Jones and Miller had two hits for the losers with Miller driving in three runs.

Nugget Williams was the winning pitcher.

Can't Gain On Red-Hot Orioles

All of a sudden, the Detroit Tigers have regained their 1968 championship form. Only there's one little hitch. They're not making much of a dent in the red-hot Baltimore Orioles' 1969 championship form.

The Tigers polished off the New York Yankees 8-0 and 6-3 in a doubleheader Tuesday night to run their winning streak to seven straight and eight in 10 outings.

But, the Orioles also won again, turning back Washington 5-1 for their fifth straight and 11th in 13 games.

The net result is this: At the start of their current winning streak, the Tigers were in third place, 9½ games behind the Orioles.

Seven victories later, they're still third, and they've gained only one game on the American League's East Division leaders.

The Tigers have a 34-23 season mark. At this point a year ago, Detroit was 37-20 and led the league by 4½ games.

The Orioles, meanwhile, have lost only 17 of 62 games this year, an amazing clip.

"They're playing .725 ball," said Tiger Manager Mayo Smith. "There's no way they can keep that up all the way. But we'll just have to keep on our own pace until we meet them. You can't do anything about them when you don't play them."

In other AL activity, California trounced Minnesota 13-1 and Cleveland whipped Boston 4-2. Oakland at Kansas City and Seattle's doubleheader at Chicago were rained out.

John Hiller checked New York on six hits in the opener, then Dick McAuliffe smashed a three-run homer and Ike Brown made his first major league hit a homer as the Tigers completed the sweep.

"I was kind of shaken," said Brown of his two-run shot off Mike Kekich in the fourth. "I guess everyone is when he gets into his first major league game."

Brown, a veteran of eight years in the minors, was called up only Monday from the Tigers' Toledo farm club.

Left-hander Mickey Lolich picked up his seventh victory in eight decisions in the nighcap, although he needed some help from Don McMahon after the Yankees pushed across three runs in the eighth.

"He was tiring," said Smith. "He also had a little blister on his pitching hand."

Hiller, 2-2, whiffed seven in posting his first complete game of the year in the opener.

"This was my best game of the season. I had real good stuff tonight," said Cuellar, who hurled 5 1-3 innings of hitless ball until Frank Howard touched him for a double in the sixth.

Paul Blair had a pair of doubles, driving in one run, and Dave Johnson homered and had two singles to pace the Orioles.

Andy Messersmith hurled a three-hitter and Rick Reichardt and Bill Voss backed him with homers as California knocked the Twins out of the West Division lead.

The Twins, who took the top spot on Monday night, trail idle Oakland by only .002 percentage points.

Reichardt cracked his sixth homer, a two-run blast, in the third and Voss had a three-run job, his first, in the Angels' six-run sixth.

Rich Reese's third homer provided the lone Minnesota run.

After Joe Talks With Jet Boss

Namath, Rozelle To Meet

NEW YORK (AP) – Joe Namath, the controversial New York Jets quarterback, has agreed to meet with pro football Commissioner Pete Rozelle but whether there'll be a meeting of the minds remains to be seen.

The meeting will probably be next week. Rozelle is fishing off the coast of lower California and Namath will be out of town until next week, too.

Namath and Jets President Phil Iselin had their first face-to-face meeting Tuesday since June 6 when Namath tearfully announced he was quitting football rather than follow Rozelle's orders to give up his half-interest in a Manhattan restaurant allegedly frequented by undesirable characters.

News of an imminent Rozelle-Namath confrontation was the only item to emerge from the one-hour meeting between Namath and Iselin. There was no word on who's calling the plays.

Rozelle has said Namath must sit down with him before he will be allowed to play again even if he sells his interest in the restaurant, Bachelors III.

Cunningham's Hits Pace Blair-Morse To 11-5 Win

Dan Cunningham drilled four hits and drove in four runs to lead Blair-Morse in an 11-5 victory over Alliance USW 3059 Tuesday at Alliance in a Hot Stove League contest.

The victory gives Blair-Morse a 10-1 record in Hot Stove competition.

Blair-Morse struck for five runs in the first inning, added two more in the second, one in the third and capped the scoring with three in the fifth.

Cunningham had four of the team's 12 hits and tallied two runs. Jack Byers, Rex Campbell and Cecil Barker added two hits to the attack.

Mike Piatt went the distance for Blair-Morse giving up seven hits.

Blair-Morse will play Akron Firestones in an exhibition game today at 6:15 p.m. at Firestone Field.

McVay Hurls 3-Hitter For Florist Win

Randy McVay turned in another strong pitching performance by limiting Richmond to three hits in a 2-0 victory for Riverview in the Colt League Tuesday at Colt Field.

McVay had the strike out ball working on 14 batters as he scattered three singles over the Richmond lineup and did not issue a walk.

Riverview scored single runs in the second and fourth innings with Norm McHenry leading the Florists with a double and two singles diving in both runs. Plant also had two hits for the winners.

Sevy's had two big innings, the third when they scored four runs and the seventh when six runs crossed the plate.

Thompson and Chema the winning pitcher, each drove in three runs for the winners. Chema collected three hits in three trips to the plate and Galeoti also had three hits in four times at bat.

Computer May Help Ease Traffic Jams On Links

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Golfers should be handicapped for slow or fast play as well as for scoring averages, a leading management consultant suggested today.

"We must eliminate the traffic jams on our courses—the game is becoming more drudgery than fun," said Roger R. Crane, a vice president of Wofac Company, a division of Science Management Corp.

A 15-handicap player weary of cooling his heels half an hour on virtually every tee and taking five hours to play a round that produces more ulcers than fun, Crane a graduate of MIT with a degree from Harvard, went to the computer to find an answer.

"We programmed a regulation golf course and fed 5,000 cards into the computer representing the playing habits of week-end golfers," he said. "Our finding was that the current system of scheduling tee-off times both at country clubs and municipal courses is completely lacking in discipline.

"We found that there are traffic jams at various spots on the course, usually the par threes. Players took as much as five hours to get around. There were long waits. This is exasperating and frustrating.

"A businessman fights commuter trains, taxis and subways five days a week. He waits for the train. Taxis get hung up in traffic. The elevator is crowded and slow.

"On the week-end he goes to play golf just to get relief from this kind of life, and what does he find? More waiting, more traffic jams, more frustrations."

With the computer, Crane has come upon what he believes is at least a part solution.

He's not selling anything. He can't can it. He can't market it. He can only try to reduce the aggravation of a friendly game of golf.

"We should have fixed tee-off times and have them better spaced, he explained. "Instead of sending players off the tee as soon as the fairway is cleared, we should have a gap of at least 10 minutes. This way the players could get around the course without any jam-ups or waits.

"Granted, we cannot necessarily get as many around the course in a condensed period of time. You can't have your cake and eat it, too. But everybody can play, and it will be more fun.

"Players should be handicapped and graded. They might be classified in three groups — red, white and blue. The reds play fast, the whites medium fast, the blues very slowly.

"The fast players should be sent off between 8 and 9:30 a.m., let us say, and the whites before 12. The slow players would have to be the tail of the field, going off in the afternoon."

Crane said his system is for use principally at private clubs, were members are known and where they can be regulated. Park courses, with rag-tag and inconsistent patrons, offer a more difficult problem but can improve time schedules. There is no thought of changing procedures in big tournaments, such as the PGA tour and Open.

Cleveland Browns Sign Four Rookies

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The signing of four more rookies by the Cleveland Browns leaves only seven of their draftees to be lined up for the 1969 season

The National Football League club announced the signing of defensive linemen Larry Adams of Texas Christian and Joe Righetti of Waynesburg; guard Greg Shelly of Virginia and running back Dick Davis of Nebraska.

Wins Decision

HOUSTON (AP)—Mark Tessman of Houston scored a unanimous 10-round decision over Henry Hank of Detroit in a light-heavyweight bout Tuesday night before a crowd of 2,500.

Qualifying Rounds Set For Amateur

NEW YORK (AP) — Sectional qualifying rounds will be held from Aug. 8-12 to select an elite field of 150 starters in the United States Golf Association's Men's Amateur Championship Aug. 27-30 at the Oakmont Country Club, Oakmont, Pa.

With an anticipated entry of 2,000 including 20-year-old defending champion Bruce Fleisher, only one out of every 13 hopefuls will have a starting berth. The championship is open to men with handicaps of three or less, providing they belong to a USGA member club. The entries close on July 23.

The 36-hole qualifying rounds will be held at 36 locations. The championship proper will be 72 holes medal play with the low 60 scorers and ties after 36 holes eligible for the final rounds.

Exemptions from qualifying are extended to the national amateur champions of the past five years and to 1969 British Amateur champion Michael Bonallack.

In addition, members of both the U.S. and British Walker Cup teams, to be selected before entries close for the Amateur, will be exempt from qualifying. So will the top 10 finishers and ties in last year's amateur and playing members of the U.S. World amateur championship team of 1968.

Besides Fleisher, former champions still eligible are Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., 1964; and Gary Cowan of Canada, 1966. Bob Murphy, 1965 champ and Bob Dickson, who won the title in 1967, now are professionals.

The top 10 finishers and ties in the 1968 championship were Fleisher, Marvin Giles III, John Bohmann, Hubert Green, Robert Barbarossa, Rik Massengale, Jack Lewis, Billy Joe Patton, Allen Miller and Cowan.

Legion Nine Edged 4-3 At Steubenville

The Steubenville Legion broke a 3-3 tie with a run in the sixth inning to produce a 4-3 victory over Post 374 Tuesday at Steubenville in an exhibition game.

Steubenville's winning run came on a walk, stolen base and single.

Post 374 posted two runs in the opening inning when Bob Flint singled and came home on Jm Musuraca's double. Musuraca later scored on a single by Joe Walker.

Steubenville bounced back with a run in the 1st of the first then scored two more in the third.

Jim Moore started for Post 374 but was hit by wildness giving up six walks. Reed was the losing pitcher in relief.

Post 374 plays Follansbee Thursday at Colt Field in an OVAC League game then travels to Martins Ferry Friday.

Moody Rates Favorites For First Time

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — For the first time in his career, Orville Moody is ranked as one of the prime contenders for a pro golf crown.

The tough, stocky former Army sergeant who made last week's United States Open—the world's most prestigious title—his first tour victory, was one of the late arrivals for the $150,000 Kemper Open.

The long-shot Open champion didn't get in from Texas in time to take pratice round on the Club course, a rolling, 7,205 yard, par 72 layout.

But the ruddy-faced guy, a 14-year Army veteran who came on the tour less than two years ago, was scheduled to participate in today's pro-am event that precedes the Thursday start of the 72-hole event.

Among the missing in the chase for the $30,000 top prize are Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper, who finished well back in the national championship, Gene Littler, who missed the cut for the final two rounds of the Open, and Miller Barber, the third round leader who blew to a 78 in the final round.

Besides Moody, other late arrivals included Arnold Palmer, the struggling dynamo whose last victory was in the Kemper last year, when it was played in New England, and Lee Trevino, the deposed Open champ who bothered by an aching left knee.

Both Palmer and Trevino rank high among the challengers, along with Deane Beman, the little man from Bethesda, Md., who finished in a tie for second at the Open, gangling Masters champ George Archer and 49-year-old Julius Boros, the PGA titleholder.

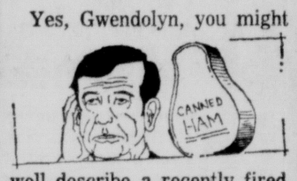

Among the sentimental choices are 57-year-old Sam Snead who said he "just stopped off on the way home to play a couple of rounds," and Charlie Sifford, the veteran Negro pro who got started in golf as a Charlotte caddy.

Hebner Drives In Both Winning Runs As Bucs Trip Cubs

Associated Press Sports Writer

Four outfielders didn't keep Richie Allen from going for the home run, and three outfielders certainly weren't going to stop Hank Aaron from doing the same. So how could the Chicago Cubs expect to keep Richie Hebner from hitting singles?

The Cubs tried the commmonplace defense of four infielders and three outfielders against Hebner and failed miserably—twice—when the Pittsburgh rookie singled in the winning runs in both games Tuesday as the Pirates swept the Cubs 1-0 and 4-3 in a twi-night twinbill.

The New York Mets were most imaginative with four outfielders against Allen in the ninth inning of their opener against Philadelphia. And while the strategy had little effect on Allen, he did strike out going for a tying homer and the Mets won 1-0, and then dropped the nightcap 6-3.

Houston probably wishes it had tried the unusual defense against Aaron. It couldn't have done any harm because Aaron hammered a homer in the ninth inning to give Atlanta a 6-5 victory over the Astros.

In other National League games, nothing could stop Los Angeles as the Dodgers swept San Diego 7-3 and 11-0, Juan Marichal pitched San Francisco by Cincinnati 4-0 and St. Louis tripped Montreal 2-0 behind Steve Carlton and Joe Hoerner.

Hebner, one of the surprises of the league with a .319 average, has only three home runs among his 67 hits, but singles were enough to drop the West Division leading Cubs twice.

After Matty Alou, the league's leading hitter, doubled in the seventh inning of the opener against loser Ferguson Jenkins, 8-4, Hebner decided the contest with a run-scoring single.

Bob Veale, 4-7, relieved by Bruce Dal Canton in the eighth, got the victory.

Then, in the ninth inning of the nightcap, Hebner rubbed salt in the Chicago wound when the Cubs walked Alou intentionally to fill the bases and Hebner delivered another single to break a 3-3 deadlock.

His other hit, another single, came when the Pirates tied the game with two runs in the eighth inning, undoing the damage caused by Chicago homers by Don Kessinger, Willie Smith and Billy Williams in the third inning for a 3-1 lead.

Another rookie, Gary Gentry, 6-5, of the Mets, proved more effective than Manager Gil Hodges' strategy as he stopped the Phillies' five-game winning streak with a two-hitter. When Hodges chose to move second baseman Al Weis into the outfield with two out and none on in the ninth and the slugging Allen at bat, Gentry responded by striking out Allen on three pitches.

Ken Boswell's single, a balk and J.C. Martin's single in the seventh inning beat rookie Billy Champion, 1-2, who gave only four hits in eight innings.

Hodges, following the same strategy Cincinnati tried against San Francisco's Willie McCovey Monday, explained that he wanted to keep Allen from getting an extra base hit. And Allen called it "a darn smart move," but admitted he still was up there going for it (a home run)."

Oddly, Allen homered his first time up in the second game and rookie Larry Hisle hit two behind Grant Jackson's six-hitter as the Phillies salvaged a split.

Houston, in contrast, stuck with three outfielders and Aaron led off the ninth of a 5-5 game with his 18th homer for the Braves' fourth consecutive victory.

Andy Kosco capped a seven-run seventh inning for Los Angeles in the opener with a two-run homer and the Dodgers erupted for six runs, three on Willie Crawford's homer, in the fourth inning of the nightcap. Kosco also drove in three runs in the second game as Alan Foster, 2-4, scattered seven hits and extended his scoreless string to 21 innings.

Marichal, 8-2, who has beaten Cincinnati nine straight times since Sept. 22, 1965, stopped the Reds on five hits for his third shutout.

Carlton, 7-4, yielded only four hits before Hoerner relieved with one out in the eighth and preserved his shutout and the Cardinals' triumph. Curt Flood doubled in both runs in the seventh inning.

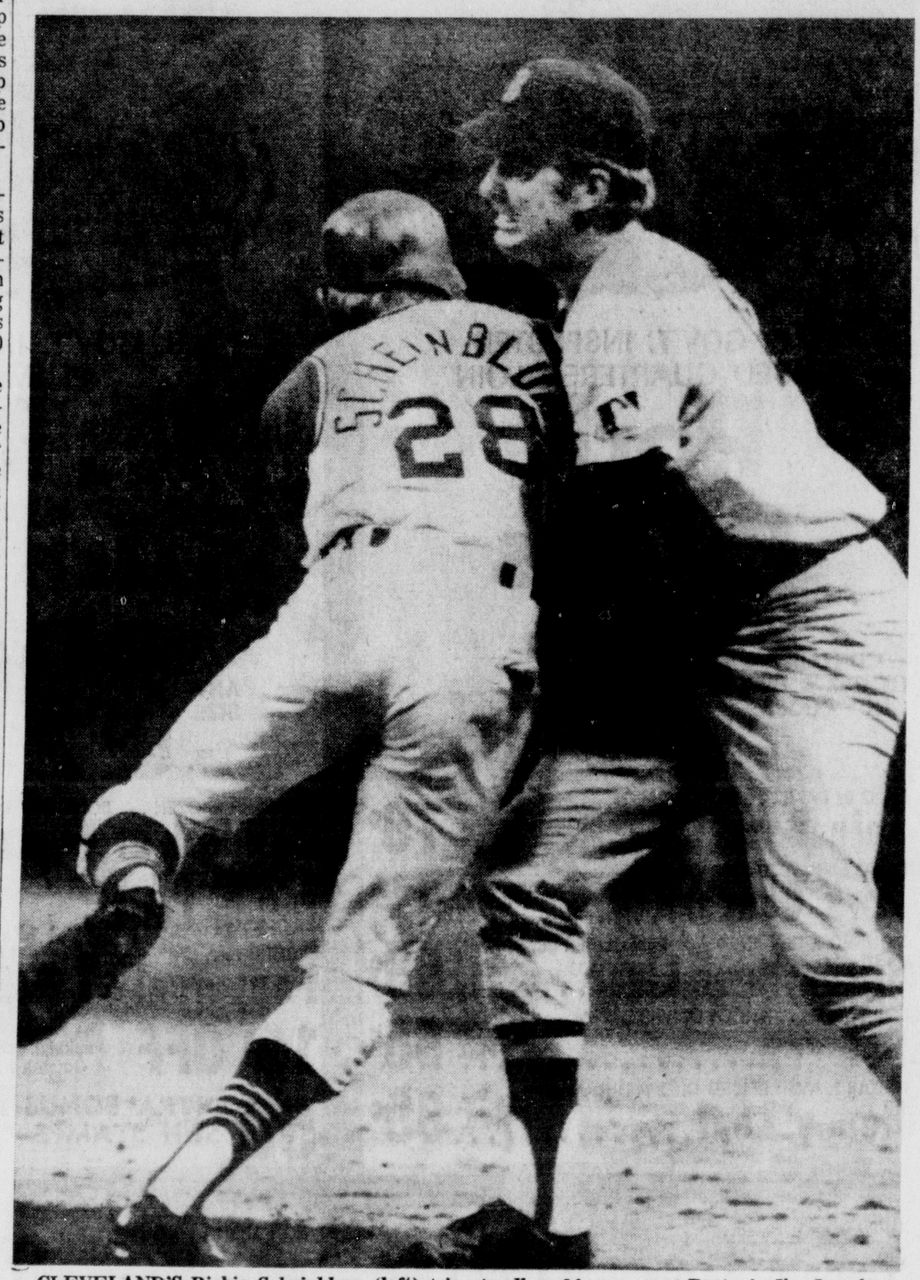

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING—Rookie Gary Gentry, who pitched five perfect innings and wound up with a two-hitter as the New York Mets blanked Philadelphi 1-0 in the first game of a doubleheader.

BATTING—Richie Hebner, who singled in the only run in the opener and the winning run in the nightcap as Pittsburgh whipped the Chicago Cubs 1-0 and 4-3.

Can't Gain On Red-Hot Orioles

All of a sudden, the Detroit Tigers have regained their 1968 championship form. Only there's one little hitch. They're not making much of a dent in the red-hot Baltimore Orioles' 1969 championship form.

The Tigers polished off the New York Yankees 8-0 and 6-3 in a doubleheader Tuesday night to run their winning streak to seven straight and eight in 10 outings.

But, the Orioles also won again, turning back Washington 5-1 for their fifth straight and 11th in 13 games.

The net result is this: At the start of their current winning streak, the Tigers were in third place, 9½ games behind the Orioles.

Seven victories later, they're still third, and they've gained only one game on the American League's East Division leaders.

The Tigers have a 34-23 season mark. At this point a year ago, Detroit was 37-20 and led the league by 4½ games.

The Orioles, meanwhile, have lost only 17 of 62 games this year, an amazing clip.

"They're playing .725 ball," said Tiger Manager Mayo Smith. "There's no way they can keep that up all the way. But we'll just have to keep on our own pace until we meet them. You can't do anything about them when you don't play them."

In other AL activity, California trounced Minnesota 13-1 and Cleveland whipped Boston 4-2. Oakland at Kansas City and Seattle's doubleheader at Chicago were rained out.

John Hiller checked New York on six hits in the opener, then Dick McAuliffe smashed a three-run homer and Ike Brown made his first major league hit a homer as the Tigers completed the sweep.

"I was kind of shaken," said Brown of his two-run shot off Mike Kekich in the fourth. "I guess everyone is when he gets into his first major league game."

Brown, a veteran of eight years in the minors, was called up only Monday from the Tigers' Toledo farm club.

Left-hander Mickey Lolich picked up his seventh victory in eight decisions in the nighcap, although he needed some help from Don McMahon after the Yankees pushed across three runs in the eighth.

"He was tiring," said Smith. "He also had a little blister on his pitching hand."

Hiller, 2-2, whiffed seven in posting his first complete game of the year in the opener.

Mike Cuellar, 7-5, stopped Washington on four hits, striking out 12 and walking only three.

"This was my best game of the season. I had real good stuff tonight." said Cuellar, who hurled 5 1-3 innings of hitless ball until Frank Howard touched him for a double in the sixth.

Paul Blair had a pair of doubles, driving in one run, and Dave Johnson homered and had two singles to pace the Orioles.

Andy Messersmith hurled a three-hitter and Rick Reichardt and Bill Voss backed him with homers as California knocked the Twins out of the West Division lead.

The Twins, who took the top spot on Monday night, trail idle Oakland by only .002 percentage points.

Reichardt cracked his sixth homer, a two-run blast, in the third and Voss had a three-run job, his first, in the Angels' six-run sixth.

Rich Reese's third homer provided the lone Minnesota run.

Ken Harrelson singled home the winning run in the eighth, then scored an insurance marker on a sacrifice as Cleveland knocked off Boston.

After Joe Talks With Jet Boss

Namath, Rozelle To Meet

NEW YORK (AP) – Joe Namath, the controversial New York Jets quarterback, has agreed to meet with pro football Commissioner Pete Rozelle but whether there'll be a meeting of the minds remains to be seen.

The meeting will probably be next week. Rozelle is fishing off the coast of lower California and Namath will be out of town until next week, too.

Namath and Jets President Phil Iselin had their first face-to-face meeting Tuesday since June 6 when Namath tearfully announced he was quitting football rather than follow Rozelle's orders to give up his half-interest in a Manhattan restaurant allegedly frequented by undesirable characters.

News of an imminent Rozelle-Namath confrontation was the only item to emerge from the one-hour meeting between Namath and Iselin. There was no word on who's calling the plays.

Rozelle has said Namath must sit down with him before he will be allowed to play again even if he sells his interest in the restaurant, Bachelors III.

Cunningham's Hits Pace Blair-Morse To 11-5 Win

Dan Cunningham drilled four hits and drove in four runs to lead Blair-Morse in an 11-5 victory over Alliance USW 3059 Tuesday at Alliance in a Hot Stove League contest.

The victory gives Blair-Morse a 10-1 record in Hot Stove competition.

Blair-Morse struck for five runs in the first inning, added two more in the second, one in the third and capped the scoring with three in the fifth.

Cunningham had four of the team's 12 hits and tallied two runs. Jack Byers, Rex Campbell and Cecil Barker added two hits to the attack.

Mike Piatt went the distance for Blair-Morse giving up seven hits.

Blair-Morse will play Akron Firestones in an exhibition game today at 6:15 p.m. at Firestone Field.

McVay Hurls 3-Hitter For Florist Win

Randy McVay turned in another strong pitching performance by limiting Richmond to three hits in a 2-0 victory for Riverview in the Colt League Tuesday at Colt Field.

McVay had the strike out ball working on 14 batters as he scattered three singles over the Richmond lineup and did not issue a walk.

Riverview scored single runs in the second and fourth innings with Norm McHenry leading the Florists with a double and two singles diving in both runs. Plant also had two hits for the winners.

Computer May Help Ease Traffic Jams On Links

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Golfers should be handicapped for slow or fast play as well as for scoring averages, a leading management consultant suggested today.

"We must eliminate the traffic jams on our courses—the game is becoming more drudgery than fun," said Roger R. Crane, a vice president of Wofac Company, a division of Science Management Corp.

A 15-handicap player weary of cooling his heels half an hour on virtually every tee and taking five hours to play a round that produces more ulcers than fun, Crane a graduate of MIT with a degree from Harvard, went to the computer to find an answer.

"We programmed a regulation golf course and fed 5,000 cards into the computer representing the playing habits of week-end golfers," he said. "Our finding was that the current system of scheduling tee-off times both at country clubs and municipal courses is completely lacking in discipline.

"We found that there are traffic jams at various spots on the course, usually the par threes. Players took as much as five hours to get around. There were long waits. This is exasperating and frustrating.

"A businessman fights commuter trains, taxis and subways five days a week. He waits for the train. Taxis get hung up in traffic. The elevator is crowded and slow.

"On the week-end he goes to play golf just to get relief from this kind of life, and what does he find? More waiting, more traffic jams, more frustrations."

With the computer, Crane has come upon what he believes is at least a part solution.

He's not selling anything. He can't can it. He can't market it. He can only try to reduce the aggravation of a friendly game of golf.

"We should have fixed tee-off times and have them better spaced, he explained. "Instead of sending players off the tee as soon as the fairway is cleared, we should have a gap of at least 10 minutes. This way the players could get around the course without any jam-ups or waits.

"Granted, we cannot necessarily get as many around the course in a condensed period of time. You can't have your cake and eat it, too. But everybody can play, and it will be more fun.

"Players should be handicapped and graded. They might be classified in three groups — red, white and blue. The reds play fast, the whites medium fast, the blues very slowly.

"The fast players should be sent off between 8 and 9:30 a.m., let us say, and the whites before 12. The slow players would have to be the tail of the field, going off in the afternoon."

Crane said his system is for use principally at private clubs, were members are known and where they can be regulated. Park courses, with rag-tag and inconsistent patrons, offer a more difficult problem but can improve time schedules. There is no thought of changing procedures in big tournaments, such as the PGA tour and Open.

Cleveland Browns Sign Four Rookies

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The signing of four more rookies by the Cleveland Browns leaves only seven of their draftees to be lined up for the 1969 season

The National Football League club announced the signing of defensive linemen Larry Adams of Texas Christian and Joe Righetti of Waynesburg; guard Greg Shelly of Virginia and running back Dick Davis of Nebraska.

Wins Decision

HOUSTON (AP)—Mark Tessman of Houston scored a unanimous 10-round decision over Henry Hank of Detroit in a light-heavyweight bout Tuesday night before a crowd of 2,500.

Qualifying Rounds Set For Amateur

NEW YORK (AP) — Sectional qualifying rounds will be held from Aug. 8-12 to select an elite field of 150 starters in the United States Golf Association's Men's Amateur Championship Aug. 27-30 at the Oakmont Country Club, Oakmont, Pa.

With an anticipated entry of 2,000 including 20-year-old defending champion Bruce Fleisher, only one out of every 13 hopefuls will have a starting berth. The championship is open to men with handicaps of three or less, providing they belong to a USGA member club. The entries close on July 23.

The 36-hole qualifying rounds will be held at 36 locations. The championship proper will be 72 holes medal play with the low 60 scorers and ties after 36 holes eligible for the final rounds.

Exemptions from qualifying are extended to the national amateur champions of the past five years and to 1969 British Amateur champion Michael Bonallack.

In addition, members of both the U.S. and British Walker Cup teams, to be selected before entries close for the Amateur, will be exempt from qualifying. So will the top 10 finishers and ties in last year's amateur and playing members of the U.S. World amateur championship team of 1968.

Besides Fleisher, former champions still eligible are Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., 1964; and Gary Cowan of Canada, 1966. Bob Murphy, 1965 champ and Bob Dickson, who won the title in 1967, now are professionals.

The top 10 finishers and ties in the 1968 championship were Fleisher, Marvin Giles III, John Bohmann, Hubert Green, Robert Barbarossa, Rik Massengale, Jack Lewis, Billy Joe Patton, Allen Miller and Cowan.

Legion Nine Edged 4-3 At Steubenville

The Steubenville Legion broke a 3-3 tie with a run in the sixth inning to produce a 4-3 victory over Post 374 Tuesday at Steubenville in an exhibition game.

Post 374 posted two runs in the opening inning when Bob Flint singled and came home on Jm Musuraca's double. Musuraca later scored on a single by Joe Walker.

Steubenville bounced back with a run in the 1st of the first then scored two more in the third.

Jim Moore started for Post 374 but was hit by wildness giving up six walks. Reed was the losing pitcher in relief.

Post 374 plays Follansbee Thursday at Colt Field in an OVAC League game then travels to Martins Ferry Friday.

Moody Rates Favorites For First Time

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — For the first time in his career, Orville Moody is ranked as one of the prime contenders for a pro golf crown.

The tough, stocky former Army sergeant who made last week's United States Open—the world's most prestigious title—his first tour victory, was one of the late arrivals for the $150,000 Kemper Open.

The long-shot Open champion didn't get in from Texas in time to take pratice round on the Club course, a rolling, 7,205 yard, par 72 layout.

But the ruddy-faced guy, a 14-year Army veteran who came on the tour less than two years ago, was scheduled to participate in today's pro-am event that precedes the Thursday start of the 72-hole event.

Among the missing in the chase for the $30,000 top prize are Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper, who finished well back n the national championship, Gene Littler, who missed the cut for the final two rounds of the Open, and Miller Barber, the third round leader who blew to a 78 in the final round.

Besides Moody, other late arrivals included Arnold Palmer, the struggling dynamo whose last victory was in the Kemper last year, when it was played in New England, and Lee Trevino, the deposed Open champ who bothered by an aching left knee.

Both Palmer and Trevino rank high among the challengers, along with Deane Beman, the little man from Bethesda, Md., who finished in a tie for second at the Open, gangling Masters champ George Archer and 49-year-old Julius Boros, the PGA titleholder.

Among the sentimental choices are 57-year-old Sam Snead who said he "just stopped off on the way home to play a couple of rounds," and Charlie Sifford, the veteran Negro pro who got started in golf as a Charlotte caddy.

A Junior Editors Quiz About BLUE SKY

QUESTION: Why is the sky blue?

ANSWER: The sky is light because the earth is covered with a dense layer of atmosphere in which are countless specks of dust and other tiny particles. The sunlight glancing off from these specks makes the sky look light. The sky may appear green; it often does when the warm sunset hues change its color. It is blue at other times on sunny days because the blue rays are flashing off from the dust particles, not being changed by the sunset colors. The white light from the sun holds within it all the rainbow colors. The particles in the air bend or refract this light and so scatter the rainbow colors. Blue is the color which, because of its short wave length, is more widely scattered than the other colors. This is why the sky looks blue on a sunny day. This is also the reason why Phyllis notices that the distant mountains look so blue. She is looking through layers of bluish air. This air has changed the color of the distant leaves on the mountain from bright green to a light, distant blue green. The farther away the mountains are, the bluer they look.

(Diana Robinson of Sacramento, Calif., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

QUESTION: Why is the sky blue?

ANSWER: The sky is light because the earth is covered with a dense layer of atmosphere in which are countless specks of dust and other tiny particles. The sunlight glancing off from these specks makes the sky look light. The sky may appear green; it often does when the warm sunset hues change its color. It is blue at other times on sunny days because the blue rays are flashing off from the dust particles, not being changed by the sunset colors. The white light from the sun holds within it all the rainbow colors. The particles in the air bend or refract this light and so scatter the rainbow colors. Blue is the color which, because of its short wave length, is more widely scattered than the other colors. This is why the sky looks blue on a sunny day. This is also the reason why Phyllis notices that the distant mountains look so blue. She is looking through layers of bluish air. This air has changed the color of the distant leaves on the mountain from bright green to a light, distant blue green. The farther away the mountains are, the bluer they look.

(Diana Robinson of Sacramento, Calif., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
